RECORD OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

During the Rebellion it opposed the war, but pointed out no other way to preserve the nation. It was opposed to issuing greenbacks, but proposed no other way to meet the pressing needs of the Government. It was opposed to the enlistment of colored soldiers, opposed to the draft, but pointed out no other way to fill the ranks of our depleted regiments. It was opposed to reconstruction, to giving the ballot to the colored men, the only loyal men of the South, but had no well-defined plan of restoring the seceded States to their proper relations to the general government. Democrats opposed the issue of bonds payable in coin, but devised no method of funding our enormous war debt. When we were utterly unable to redeem the greenbacks they opposed all delay in their redemption, and the moment we were able to redeem them then they opposed with all their might the fixing of any time for such redemption. They have opposed in the past and now oppose the national banking system, but give us nothing to take its place—no safer or better institution for doing the business of the country. They oppose the railroads of the country without being able to intelligently regulate them. They oppose combinations of capital for the development of our country without understanding the mutual relations that naturally exist between capital and labor. They oppose our present system of tariff, our protection to home industries, without being able during six years of power to give us anything better. They oppose the tax on whisky and tobacco simply as being a tax on Democratic commodities. They oppose the appearance of national officers at the polls for fear that such officers will secure a fair ballot and an honest count. They claim to be down on Mormonism, but oppose all methods for crippling and destroying that institution. The Democratic party is simply a party of negation; it expends all its energies in attempting to tear down, and has no strength, no enthusiasm for building up.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The cattle men who supply the San Francisco market from California and Nevada ranges predict that beef will be unprecedently high in that city in the coming Spring. One prominent grazer invested some time ago $50,000 to feed his stock on a range in Humboldt county, and from this vantage ground can supply the Eastern as well as the California market. The butchers say that beef will reach about 15 cents per pound, per carcass, and housekeepers will have to pay 30 and 40 cents per pound for good meat. This, says the Exchange, is not a pleasant outlook for those who have not full coffers. Mush, cracked wheat and all cheap and filling dishes will be in demand. Heaven help the poor boarders. Their allowance of morning beefsteak will be reduced to an almost undistinguishable quantity.

It is stated that S. S. Montague, so long connected with the Central Pacific Railroad, as chief of the civil engineer department, has retired from active service on account of ill health. Montague was with T. D. Judah, who planned and engineered the Central Pacific across the Sierra Nevada. After his death Mr. Montague was appointed in his place, and has filled that important position up to the present time.

The Enterprise says: "There are now but $32,357.40 in the Storey county Treasury. This is sufficient to pay the county's expenses, at the present rate, for about six weeks. If it were not for the taxes for the fiscal year, which are about to be collected, the Treasury would be depleted in less than two months. Another term of Democratic rule would impoverish the county."

TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches to EVENING GAZETTE.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

Beecher Indorsed.

New York, October 12.

The New York and Brooklyn Association of Congregational Churches met again yesterday and prepared a resolution asking Beecher to reconsider his action of withdrawing from the Association and expressing concurrence in his belief.

The New York and Brooklyn Association of Congregational Churches passed a resolution expressing regret at Beecher's withdrawal, affirming the belief that his divergence of view on theological and doctrinal points from the views of the Association was not sufficiently serious to demand such a course, and expressed a hope that he would see his way clear to withdraw his resignation.

WASHINGTON, October 11.

The Jeannette Board of Inquiry was in session at the Navy Department this morning and examined Captain P. C. Johnson, who was senior officer upon the Board of Inspection which passed upon the Jeannette previous to her sailing from San Francisco. The report of the Board was read. Captain Johnson verified its findings and testified that in his judgement the Jeannette was in every particular perfectly seaworthy when she started upon her ill-fated voyage. Lieutenant Danenhower will probably appear before the Board to-morrow.

The President at Webster's Old Home.

Boston, October 12.

A brilliant reception was given President Arthur last night at the Hotel Brunswick. Fully 3,000 persons were present in strictly full dress. The entertainment and many toilets were elegant and costly. Mayor Green introduced the guests to the President. This morning the Ancient and Honorable Artillery escorted the President and party to the Depot, where trains were taken for Marshfield. At the conclusion of the exercises at Webster's farm the President will return to Boston.

Steamer Snagged.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., October 12.

The steamer Plowboy, en route from Pine Bluff for Memphis, struck a snag yesterday morning in White River Cut off, eight miles above the mouth, and sunk. She was owned by the Memphis & Arkansas River Packet Company and valued at $12,000. Insured for $5,000. The cargo consisted of 350 bales of cotton.

FOREIGN TELEGRAPH.

Cremation in England.

LONDON, October 12.

An account is published of two cremations, the first which have taken place in England. The bodies were those of Lady Hanaham and Mrs. Hanaham, who died in Dorsetshire in 1877 and 1876 respectively. They both expressed a wish that their bodies be cremated. The remains were kept in a mortuary until preparations for the process were completed. Last Sunday the remains, enclosed in substantial coffins, were placed in a furnace on plates of iron and fire brick and reduced to ashes.

An Irish Double Murder.

DUBLIN, October 12.

In the inquiry into the murder of the Huddys, near Loughmackin, Kerrigan and his wife testified that the elder Huddy was stunned with a stone as he was serving a process. He was then kicked, and one of the assassins fired four rounds from cover into his body, killing him. The younger Huddy's head was then dashed against a heap of stones, and he was afterwards shot in the presence of a crowd of villagers. The corpses were placed in sacks and taken to Loughmackin.

A Level-Headed Turk.

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 11.

The moderate party has gained a victory over the fanatical party. Said Pasha made two conditions for his remaining in office—first, "that each minister shall be responsible for the workings of his own department. Second, that the Austro-German alliances shall be abandoned, accomplished facts in Egypt accepted, and a good understanding with England and France on the Eastern question re-established."

The Jews in Hungary.

PESTH, October 12.

In the Hungarian Chamber of Deputies Herr Tizza, Prime Minister, in reply to a question in relation to the recent anti-Jewish riots, said the movement might eventually degenerate into one of a socialistic character. He declared he would never tolerate the perpetration of such excesses. With a view to the settlement of the question, the Government, he said, had introduced a measure revising the usury and trade laws.

The Dublin Exhibition.

DUBLIN, October 12.

At a meeting of the Exhibition Company Lord Mayor Dawson submitted a prospectus for the formation of a new company, and £500 were voted to defray the preliminary expenses connected with its organization. It was also proposed that the new company take powers to carry on banking transactions and grant loans on ample security to Irish manufacturers.

Matters in Egypt.

CAIRO, October 11.

Riaz Pasha still refuses to allow English counsel to defend Arabi Pasha. Sir Edward Mallett fully advocates the employment of counsel. He contends that the delay in granting the application for counsel greatly prejudices the case of Arabi, who, meanwhile, is being subjected to a long series of private examinations.

A Wealthy Convict.

OTTAWA, Ont., October 12.

The Banque Nationale counterfeiter, Tim Rajott, Martin Sparrow and Wm. Cooper, have been sentenced to 3 years in Kingston penitentiary. Rajott at one time was a prominent merchant and is worth about $100,000.

PARIS, September 11.

In negotiating with the Madagascar Embassy France will claim restitution of her sovereignty over nine-tenths of the island which belonged to her a century ago.

Reno Evening Gazette

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1893

NOTICES.

Little Robbie Lindsay is very sick. L. J. Flint's children have the scarlet fever. Counterfeit five-dollar pieces are said to be in circulation.

There are 740 names on the register at Justice Young's office.

Knowles & Bainbridge have a fine horse for sale. See 50 cent column. Tennyson's poems at Nasby's bazaar. Thermometer at 7, 9, 11, 1 and 3—43, 52, 61, 67, 67.

The N. & O. train this morning went out with a fair freight and passenger business.

Repairs are going along the telegraph line to the eastward of Reno, putting it in condition for next winter.

Twelve bars of bullion went through here last night from the Standard mine, Bodie, and eight from the Navajo, at Tuscarora.

Henry Mullard, a Cornishman, who recently arrived in Nevada from California, has been received at the Insane Asylum from Austin.

The Pavilion is being rapidly stripped of articles placed there on exhibition, a considerable number of which have been sold.

Willie Walroad, book-keeper for W. H. Dickens, is the lucky boy who won the fine $125 harness put up at raffle by G. Merklinger.

Notwithstanding the great thinning out of visitors, there was a good crowd at the Palace last night, and business was as good as during Fair time.

The V. & T. engine ran its two front wheels off the turn-table this morning, before it came up to the depot to hook onto the regular train.

G. W. Meyler has purchased one of A. H. Barnes' thoroughbred Berkshire pigs, for breeding purposes. There are but two more left. Farmers say this breed of pigs is the best.

Fredrick & Hastings have rented Kimball Hall and intend to give dances there every Saturday evening. The first soiree will take place on Saturday evening. See 50 cent column.

Bluestone and Wheat.

An exchange says that many farmers say it is of no use to bluestone wheat, as it does not prevent smut. This idea is erroneous and dangerous. The true cause is because all the grains are not touched by the present process. A process has been discovered by which every grain may be touched by the bluestone water. It is simply this: Have a cask of water in which bluestone is well dissolved, with a faucet; then have a wooden trough made, in which place an auger-worm, like that belonging to thrashers; then with hand-power turn the auger, and as the wheat flows in the trough, the bluestone water will meet it from the faucet, and every kernel of grain is touched. The whole process is simple, and recommends itself to the attention of farmers.

Washoe Greenbackers.

Pursuant to a call our local Greenbackers met in council yesterday afternoon to hold a convention, and made a partial ticket as follows: For Assemblymen, H. H. Beck, G. R. Holcomb and H. H. Hogan; for Assessor, O. C. Ross. After going through the form of adopting a platform and appointing a Central Committee consisting of O. C. Ross, O. Higgins, G. R. Holcomb, James Sullivan, A. H. Ordway, Dr. Hogan and H. H. Beck, with full power to complete the ticket and make all arrangements for the campaign, the meeting adjourned. After the adjournment the committee decided to hold a ratification meeting in Reno on Thursday, the 19th inst.

"Eggs in Eggs Now."

Eggs are scarce in California, and importations are being made from the East, where farmers look out for these little farm adjuncts, which California farmers, as a general thing, pay little attention to. A car-load of eggs went through Reno last night from Chicago for Sacramento, where they retail for 45 cents per dozen, the buyer taking big chances on freshness.

Nevada Walnuts.

J. E. Bannister has five walnut trees in his garden at Winnemucca which bear this year. Several of them are loaded with nuts, and one is literally down with them, so that the top, bending beneath the load, was broken off by the wind. Walnut trees seem to do as well here as in the Western States, where they are indigenous to the soil.

Bullion at the Mint.

The Tribune says that during the month of September the deposits of bullion at the Carson Mint were greater than any single month since operations were resumed, on November 1st, 1891.

Public Meeting.

The Young Men's Republican Club will hold a ratification meeting early the coming week. A committee has been appointed to make arrangements for speakers, etc.

THE MAGNIFICENT COMET.

One of the Grandest Displays Ever Seen in Reno.

The report that Proctor and Piazz Smythe have predicted that the comet will fall into the sun next year and thereby cause the roasting of the earth's inhabitants, gives the comet additional interest. It can still be seen between four and five o'clock in the morning, and those who wish to gaze upon this messenger of destruction may never again have so good an opportunity of seeing it as is now presented. A number of the citizens of Reno viewed the heavenly monster this morning from the balcony of the Golden Eagle Hotel, and all agreed that it was one of the grandest sights they ever witnessed. It is nearly as grand as the great comet of 1853, and its tail is still growing. Those who believe it will run into the sun and upset things on this unstable little earth of ours next year, had better cultivate repentance and commence howling for mercy, or else emigrate to the Base Range, where such things are not thought of.

Dr. Lewis Swift, of Dr. Warner's Observatory, says the new comet discovered by Dr. Schmit at Athens, is unquestionably a fragment of the great comet broken off at its perihelion. This proves that the great comet must have grazed the sun and hence passed through a terrible crisis. This is the second instance on record where a comet has been disrupted, the first one being Biella's comet of 1846.

Grand Jury Report.

The following report has been made by the Grand Jury of Washoe county: Hon. S. D. King, Judge of the Second Judicial Court, in and for Washoe county Nevada: Your Grand Jury, in addition to the partial report on the 13th day of September, 1893, herewith report that we have found and present to this court one indictment for obstructing a railroad track, two indictments for burglary, one indictment for embezzlement. We have found true bills of indictment as follows: A. E. Henn, for wilfully obstructing the V. & T. R. R. Co.'s track at Washoe; Joe Williams and James McMannin, for burglary; B. F. Small, for embezzlement.

We have ignored the charge against Patrick Tighe for assault with intent to kill.

Having no further business before us for consideration, we respectfully ask to be discharged.

GEORGE ALT, Foreman.

Anxious Cons.

Joe Williams and James McManus were taken before the District Court this morning to answer to the charge of burglary. They both seemed anxious to occupy a prison cell, for they said they did not want an attorney, but would plead guilty and waive time for sentence. Judge King, therefore, sentenced Williams to two years and McManus to three years at hard labor in the State Prison. They are both old convicts and prison life suits them about as well as anything else. Williams is the man who burglarized Chas. Becker's storeroom and McManus broke into Naden's blacksmith shop. Deputy Sheriff Grey took them to Carson this morning.

The Campaigners.

Hon. E. Strother, the Republican candidate for Governor, Uncle George Tuft, on the ticket for State Treasurer, J. M. Dornier, the next Secretary of State, and Hon. J. A. Stephens, will address the citizens of Tuscarora, next Saturday evening. On Monday evening Judge Leonard, Senator Powning, Controller Hallock and Colonel Bishop addressed one of the largest political meetings ever held in Paradise Valley, and every speaker made a most excellent impression. Mr. Bishop was in an unusually happy spirit and surpassed himself. The same gentlemen had a good reception at Winnemucca Tuesday night.

No Switch Engine for Reno.

Engine 48 has been ordered to report at Wadsworth for road duty. Hereafter there will be no switch engine at the Reno yard. The work that has to be done will devolve upon any locomotive that may happen to be on hand. The absence of 48 will considerably impair the efficiency of our fire department, she being a fire steamer.

A Campaign Joke Spoiled.

A man named Kyle, from the Comstock, was found helplessly inebriated in San Francisco Tuesday night with $1,000 in his pocket. Now somebody will ask how he managed to get through Reno with that amount of money. It shows that this Republican town is thoroughly honest.

Mills and Improvements.

Gould & McDonald are building a five stamp mill and furnace at Mill City, Humboldt county. It will be a custom mill. Mr. Woolcock is putting in a new kind of wind-mill to pump water to irrigate the land at the same place, on the handsome little ranch around the station.

Fruit for the East.

Two car-loads of fruit went east this morning, consisting of the choicest varieties from the orchards of Sacramento and Santa Clara counties, Cal. It was packed by E. T. Earl of Sacramento, and shipped by W. H. Peacock & Co. to the Eastern depot at Chicago.

PERSONALS.

J. B. Gilliam, Bodie, is at the Arcade.

W. T. Rowland, Oakland, is at the Arcade.

C. S. Varian went to Virginia this morning.

Governor Kinkaid is still confined to his room.

E. V. Spencer left for his home in Susanville this morning.

Louis Crockett of Boston is registered at the Depot Hotel.

Mrs. Bowers, the Washoe seeress, is in town, stopping at the Arcade.

A. M. Stewart, brother of the late Professor Frank Stewart, is in town.

Uncle George Tuft will remain in Eastern Nevada until about the first of November.

N. B. Kendall leaves this evening for New York State, his old home, to reside permanently.

A. H. Frank, of Buffalo, New York, one of the owners of the Voltaire mine, near Carson, was in Reno last night.

Frank Vial, an attaché of the Mono county Sheriff's office for a long time, went through Reno last night on his way to Seattle, Washington Territory.

It is now said that Senator Jones will make his first speech of the campaign at Eureka. He will probably arrive in Reno on to-morrow morning's express.

Fred Belmont, of Verdi, was in town to-day, having some business before Judge King pertaining to papers which have to receive the county seal before being sent East.

Fred Hagerman is at Seattle, W. T. He writes his mother that he is much pleased with the country and is making money. His friends will be glad to learn of his prosperity.

L. L. Woodmansee, correspondent and business representative for the publishing house of Dewey & Co., San Francisco, came up from the Bay this morning. He will remain in this section for several days.

G. W. Meyler is in town arranging business connected with his staging. He will put an agent here to attend to the business and go over the road to Oneida to oversee the departure of his stages for the north.

Truckee Items.

[Truckee Republican October 11.] The trial of Paul Monk on a charge of selling liquor to Indians resulted in a fine of $90 being imposed. Too light.

The Board of Supervisors allowed the following claims on Road District No. 5: A. G. Chow, $216.14; H. L. Day, $677.17.

Nearly all the Summer resorts are deserted. The "oldest inhabitant" predicts at least two months' good weather yet this Fall, but most of the lake hotels will close for the season in the next two weeks.

The snow is three feet deep at Meadow Lake.

Lonkey & Smith's new planing mill and box factory at Verdi is rapidly approaching completion. They expect to start up in a few days.

The fight for the township offices promises to be one of the liveliest we have ever had in Truckee. There are not less than a dozen candidates, and as only four can be successful, it is not improbable that there will be an unusually large crop of sore heads after November 7th.

Indicted For Embezzlement.

B. F. Small was arrested a few days ago on the charge of embezzlement in taking liquors and other goods from the cellar of the Arcade Hotel, belonging to the estate of the late David McFarland. His case was presented to the Grand Jury yesterday and that body found a true bill of indictment. Small was arraigned in the Justice Court this morning to answer to the complaint. He asked for two days in which to plead. The time was granted and Small released with bail fixed at $1,000. His examination will likely take place Saturday.

Want More Pap.

The Democrats of Lander county in their recent convention passed the following resolution in regard to the salary law: "The present salary law is a total failure. It is oppressive in the several counties of this State, that the fees collected by the county officers are not sufficient to pay the salaries, and that it reduces the efficiency of the officers in the discharge of their duties." The Legislative candidates are pledged to secure a repeal of the law. But it won't affect the Democracy a bit, as they will not have a chance at the State Treasury for some time to come.

Agricultural Society Meeting.

The Trustees of the Agricultural Society met this morning and found that they were short of funds enough to pay the help employed Fair week. They rated up the deficiency themselves, and immediately put up $40 each to make good the Society obligation. All of the Trustees had subscribed very liberally before, and their act to-day is certainly very commendable. The Board is in session this afternoon making up the list of premiums. All special premiums will be paid as soon as the list is completed.

THE GREAT SUCCESS.

"THE TAMPICO."

Pat. July 22, 1873; Aug. 3, '78; Aug. 3, '80; Jan. 2, '82; April 1, '83.

THE TAMPICO CORSET is boned with the Tampico Fibre, in substitution of the old fashioned rigid and Breakable Bones. The Tampico Stay will not be affected by heat, cold or perspiration, and while it affords a more comfortable support than any other, it cannot be broken, however severe a test it may be exposed to in wear. It is so pliable that it conforms easily to the body in every position, and affords a most comfortable support to the wearer. It will be refreshing to ladies to find in "The Tampico" a corset that will never break. As an evidence of its intrinsic merits, A REWARD OF TWENTY DOLLARS is offered to the wearer of every Tampico Corset in which any of the Tampico stays break. It has the valuable patent attachment known as the triple back which affords a complete protection to the spinal column (the most vital part of the body,) thereby preventing back-ache, spinal irritation and allied diseases to which ladies become subject from exposure, by leaving an open space at the back, as they invariably do, in using the ordinary corset. "The triple back" supplies a covering for the open space, and thereby protects the spine from cold, prevents wear of the undergarments by friction of laces, and gives a smoothness of fit to the back of the dress, making it a most valuable and necessary feature to all corsets.

Beware of a variety of imitations of the "Tampico" made with cord, round rod and other inferior materials.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

RESOLVED, That the honor and glory of the Republic, its continued peace, prosperity and progress will be best served by the perpetuation and continued success of the Republican party. We declare our fidelity to its principles as expressed in the Chicago platform of 1884, and as further embodied in its great history from its organization to the present time.

RESOLVED, That in the tragic death of President Garfield our country has suffered a deplorable loss, and the Republican party mourns for one who consecrated a noble and heroic life to the vindication of its great purposes.

RESOLVED, That we have faith in the prudent and sagacious administration of President Arthur and believe it will result in promoting the best interests of the country.

RESOLVED, That the presence in our midst of a servile race of aliens, incapable of assimilating with our institutions, is a perpetual menace to all classes of society. The relief extended to our people by the passage of a law excluding such aliens, and we favor such further legislation as will permanently exclude the Chinese.

RESOLVED, That we recognize the paramount importance of maintaining an unimpaired free public school system of the State. We shall defend it against sectarian, political or other improper influences, and we favor such further legislation as the condition and wants of the common schools of the State may require. As free institutions they should be conducted as to satisfy poor and rich alike, and upon this principle we urge the adoption of some system by which this State shall furnish the best books at the lowest possible figure.

RESOLVED, That owing to the remote position of Nevada from the sea-board and the entire absence of navigable waters and connecting lines of railroads to and from the principal centers, we demand from Congress such wholesome and effective legislation as will place our people on terms of equality in respect to transportation charges with the States specially favored by railroad monopolies.

RESOLVED, That we pledge the Republican party of Nevada to such a course of enlightened legislation as will extend to railroad and other corporations doing business in this State the same protection and the same rights before the law as is accorded to individuals, no more and no less. And further, that the Republican party favors and demands at the hands of the State Legislature legislation regulating and equalizing the rates and fares on all railroads within this State.

RESOLVED, That we are in favor of the Government of the United States establishing a postal telegraph service, and operating the same in connection with the Postoffice Department.

RESOLVED, That the scheme of silver should be placed upon the same basis as that of gold, and we invoke early Congressional legislation to that end.

RESOLVED, That it is the duty of the Legislature to enact such laws as will result in the purification of the jury box and better promote the administration of justice.

RESOLVED, That it is the duty of the next Legislature to pass such laws as shall reduce the expenses of State and county governments to the lowest possible limit consistent with the requirements of the public service.

RESOLVED, That the earnest attention of Congress and the State Legislature is directed to the subject of codifying and revising the laws of this State, and we favor the constitution to the location and working of mineral lands to the end that legitimate prospecting and the development of our chief source of wealth may best be promoted.

RESOLVED, That the appropriation by a Republican Congress for the payment of pensions to invalid Union soldiers and to the veterans of the Mexican war is the discharge of a debt of honor and justice, and we favor the prompt payment of such pensions.

RESOLVED, That in the judgment of this convention the Legislature, when next convened, should make the necessary provisions for a convention to revise the entire constitution of the State; that in providing for such convention well-guarded restrictions should be made upon the members of the convention, their compensation, and fixing the duration of its session; that we believe such a convention is imperatively demanded by the urgent necessities of the times, and we favor the following course of action: First—to change the fundamental law so as to secure as nearly as may be the equality of representation on all property subjected thereto, second—to regulate and render equal and just all the rates of passage and freight upon all railroads doing business in this State, and third—to secure the reduction of the expenses of the State to the minimum by dispensing with all unnecessary officers and employees, rendering more speedy and economical the collection of public revenue, and the general administration of justice.

A ROUGH GUESS.

The guessing season has begun, and in order to post gentlemen who have bets to make, we give them the results of a half hour's figuring of three well informed politicians this morning. They expressed the opinion that the Democrats will have to gather up a majority of 600 votes to come down to the Sink of the Humboldt with or they cannot win. Powning will run ahead of his ticket in Storey and can safely count on 100 majority. The vote there will be closer than most folks believe. On a close calculation it is not likely that 2,500 votes will be cast and the complexion of the register shows that it will be very evenly divided. In Ormsby Powning expects to run behind, but he will be stronger on election day than he is to-day. The ticket will get over 150 majority. In Washoe it will be 150 majority; in Esmeralda 100, and in Douglas and Lyon 50 each. If the Republicans of the Great East can hold their own, those of the small west will make a majority. Governor Kinkaid had a majority of 527 and Daggett 160 more.

A QUESTION WORTH CONSIDERING

According to the present constitution of this State, only the net proceeds of the mines can be taxed. It might be well for those who are advocating a change in that instrument to ask whether it would not be better to levy instead, a tax on the mines as real estate. The tax need not be made a burden, but if those who own them are protected by the laws, they should not grumble at sharing the expense. The farmer is taxed on his land, fences, houses, barns, cattle, crops and tools. The merchant on his building as well as his goods, and so with all of us except the miner. He only pays a tax on his profits. If he does not take out bullion he goes free. He may develop a mine worth millions, and sell it without doing anything to support the State. Might it not be well to drop the bullion tax and assess the claims at what they are worth. In California that is done, and elsewhere also. The Standard mine at Bodie is put down at $1,000,000, and other mines in proportion.

EDISON'S FAILURE.

A correspondent writes to the American Gaslight Journal: My informant stated that Edison has just met with the greatest disappointment of his life, in the complete failure of his attempt to light 2500 houses with his incandescent lamps by his underground system of wires. But 50 houses could be lighted, the electricity being conveyed away, owing to imperfect insulation. As the insulation was supposed to be perfect, the conclusion is that underground conductors cannot be made to work.

A SOLID SUBSTITUTE.

Theodore Winters' name has been substituted for that of W. F. Berry for State Senator on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Winters is a solid citizen, and has an ocean of friends in this community. Perhaps his greatest fault is that he is a sterling Democrat.

The Republican rally to-night promises to be of unusual importance. It will put that side of the argument fairly before our people. People should go to such places in a frame of mind to judge fairly, for it is a question of conscience to try to be right. No man's prejudice should interfere with his doing his duty by the government of his country. His honest convictions should guide his vote.

An exchange says: The gentleman appointed by the court to receive from Keely the secret of his "motor" invention, has reported that the discovery of a new motive force is a real one.

If Senator Jones succeeds Folger as Secretary of the Treasury the Legislature this Winter will elect his successor.

THE SPEECHES.

A FINE AUDIENCE LISTENS TO THE TRUTH.

The Republicans of Reno Turn Out En Masse.

Out of a host of attractions that filled the town Friday night a good sized audience assembled at the Nevada Theater, where Hon. C. C. Powning and Hon. W. W. Bishop were announced to speak. Minute guns were fired on the Plaza, several bonfires blazed and the Reno band added its persuasive notes to the general invitation. Judge Leonard, Mr. Preble, Mr. Young, Controller Hallock, C. F. Bicknell, J. C. Harlow and Hon. C. C. Stevenson occupied seats on the stand. Dr. Waggoner called upon W. M. Boardman to act as Chairman. Mr. Boardman talked about 15 minutes of the candidates, endorsing them as good, true men, worthy of any office they were asked to fill. The candidate for Congress, Mr. Powning, was received by his fellow townsmen with applause. He reviewed the platform and referred particularly to the Chinese plank and challenged anyone to show where any Democrat had made an effort which had made an impression, while such men as Jones, Woodburn, Sargent and Miller had spent years in the work, and a Republican President had signed the bill. He said that the elections in Oregon, Maine and Vermont proved that the principles for which Garfield and Lincoln had been martyred were still dear to the nation. To the Republican party is due the laws we now have on silver, and John P. Jones was the father of the policy. He referred to

THE VAST DIVIDEND

Made to the States in the River and Harbor bill, and showed what an immense benefit forty or fifty thousand dollars spent on the Truckee, Carson, Humboldt or Walker rivers would have been to this State. It would have built reservoirs in the mountains and made the supply sufficient for all the land in reach, much of which has as good soil as any lying out of doors. He pledged himself to support the Reagan bill or any similar measure. His greatest efforts, however, would be directed to getting the donation by the general Government to the State of Nevada of every acre of public land in her borders to be used by her for developing her resources, bringing water and land together by building canals, digging artesian wells, etc. The idea had come to him some years ago while considering an idea of B. F. Leete's favoring an extensive system of irrigation by the State bringing in water through long canals that were not within the power of private means to build. The idea of using all the public lands in the State for such purposes would not strike Congress very unfavorably, as very little revenue is now or ever will be derived from it, while if improved it would pay the Government well in internal revenue receipts alone. Everyone here can see what a splendid thing it would be if the ditch talked of here so long, running from Essex across the flank of Peavine mountain into Spanish and Warm Spring valleys, could be built. In conclusion the speaker

REVIEWED THE STATE TICKET

And spoke a favorable word for all the candidates. He said Mr. Strother was a gentleman and would make a matter of personal pride to administer the government well. Major Laughton is well qualified for the delicate duties of presiding over the Senate. He is a good parliamentarian and a man of quick perception and honest impulses. Judge Leonard has distinguished himself for his learning and research and is a jurist of experience and purity. Nevada never had so able, honest and efficient a Controller as J. F. Hallock. George Tuffy has the Democratic candidate on the run. His opponent, G. H. Shepherd, a most worthy and sensible gentleman, has withdrawn, and the best thing the Democrats can do is to put George on their ticket and elect him unanimously. J. M. Derner is running against a very fine gentleman for Secretary of State. J. W. Richards is a good man and in the Legislature was always a good friend to Reno, but he reminded the people here that Mr. Derner had also been a servicable friend to Washoe, and had shown it only a few months ago by casting the vote in the State Central Committee which gave Reno the Republican State Convention. W. H. Davenport, the candidate for Attorney-General, is a good man. His opponent, Merrill, worked against Washoe having the asylum, and opposed the bill bringing it to the State at all, and when the Democrats ask any one to scratch Davenport and vote for Merrill, he asked them not to do it. No higher compliment could be paid to this county than the nomination of C. S. Preble for Surveyor General. His election will be of great service to Washoe county, for his is a very important office to the farmers. He ought to have as large a majority in the county as any candidate on the ticket. C. S. Young has been a teacher for many years, and is the man in all instruction. J. C. Harlow is a good printer and will run the office as cheaply and honestly as any man can. He has been a member of the Assembly, and always gave his vote for anything that Washoe county needed. His opponent, Powning said, he was not acquainted with, but he is a brother of the Democrat whose paper works against Washoe all the time—the Virginia Evening Chronicle. Last, but not least, is C. F. Bicknell, the unanimous choice of the bar of Nevada for Clerk of the Supreme Court. He closed with an exhortation to Republicans to vote for their ticket. Mr. Young was introduced, but said he would make a talk later in the season and give his ideas of some important changes in the State school system.

W. W. BISHOP

was introduced, and said that he came to Reno sixteen years ago this month and spoke from a pile of lumber near the river, when the only marks of a town were some stakes driven by the railroad company to show where the town lots were. He was working then for Governor Blaisdell's re-election, and told the people that he believed it was for their interest to elect the Republican ticket. He said then that their principles would last. Since then no man can point to a right of the people that had been lost by them. Since then no effort had been made by any Democrat to succeed. They found seceding was not a success in this climate. They had quit seceding and gone to running for office. He said he saw Democrats in the house, and he was glad to talk to them. They like to hear the truth, but never believe it. He said he would not abuse them; in fact he could not abuse them, for the truth is not abuse, and God almighty never put brains enough in a human head to tell half the frozen truth that hung around that party. No Democrat ever put together principles to make a bill for the rights of man. The Democrats claimed they were so honest and Tilden so good. They wanted eight to seven, but got seven to eight. The electoral commission was their scheme, but they lost their man because Logan tempted David Davis off the Supreme Bench with a seat in the Senate. So a Republican was put in his place and Hayes got the seat. It didn't make any difference whether he was elected or not. They claimed that Tilden was so honest and that he was cheated, but instead of putting him up again they put up Hancock, who had whipped them a good many times. Since 1860 the Democrats had done nothing for the country. They were opposed to internal improvements and had taken no hand in

THE WONDERFUL DEVELOPMENTS

Of the last 20 years. A number of people disturbed the meeting at this point by going out, and Mr. Bishop said that all Democrats are supposed to be in bed at 9 o'clock, so the audience must excuse them. No one could tell what the Democratic party has done that is good, but all know what it has done that was bad. It tried to secede and cost 3,000,000,000 of money and half a million of lives. The poorest Republican is better entitled to a vote than the best Democrat that ever lived. The Republican party found secession almost accomplished, with foreign powers ready to recognize the confederacy, the treasury empty and the money squandered by Buchanan's administration (and no Democrat denies it now), and with no credit. Europeans believed a Republic could not live. They thought we could whip an outside foe, but could not put down a rebellion at home. But the Republican genius was equal to the occasion. Greenbacks were issued to carry on the government and pay the war expenses until business could be resumed, agriculture start up and manufactures again create wealth to support a State. To-day the debt is not a burden. The interest is low and the people do not find fault. Had the Democrats succeeded, instead of the stars all being fixed and the Union complete we would be severed and might be a republic by itself, subject to the caprice of the countries of the old world. There is danger in Democratic rule. Democratic Legislatures have not made laws good for the people, and cities ruled by them are not well formed. New York is a good example. Go to Texas. It disgraced itself. It was given the public lands when it was admitted, on condition that it pay its war debt made in securing its independence from Mexico. After the war it had four million dollars in its school fund, and it repealed all laws relating to public schools and turned the money over to be plundered by the Legislature. Charges are only made against two men on the Republican ticket. The Democrats say Powning is young and worked before he was of age and that Laughton plays the fiddle. The other young men on the ticket had committed crimes, but the Democrats did not know it. He reviewed the two platforms, and pointed out that the Republicans pledge themselves against sectarian schools, while the Democrats say nothing. He said the illiterate are Democrats, and if you find a man half drunk cursing monopolies and the Republican party and for breaking the Constitution, and show him a book asking him to read the point violated, he can't read a word of it. Compar-

he showed the difference between Republican and Democratic States. In Nevada only six per cent. are unable to read. In Arkansas it is 40 per cent.; in Massachusetts seventy per cent.; in Louisiana, 56 per cent. The Republican party was organized by the proudest thinkers the world ever saw, and is to-day the party of progress and enlightenment. He said Washoe Republicans had not been doing right. They had been fighting since the convention, and had let the sack come in and smother them. Each man says he did not vote for Fair, but some did and for causes not honest. He exhorted Republicans to be either honest or else go to the Democrats. One traitor is worse than 40 deserters. He asked them to consider that the Congressional vote was very important and it was necessary that all should vote for Powning. He said the Republicans ought to be in power for 100 years, and asked Reno to redeem herself. It is too nice a town to be under a cloud. Too many nice people, too handsome ladies and charming children, to have the reputation of selling elections.

The Pavilion.

On the lower floor of the Pavilion Knowles & Bainbridge make a good display of tinware, porcelain goods, etc.

Manning & Berry make a good exhibit of stoves and ranges of all kinds.

The Judson Manufacturing Company of Oakland have a Victor mower on exhibition. The agents claim that it has advantages over mowers of any other manufacturers, which makes it invaluable. One advantage is that it cleans direct from the shoe by means of a compound lever, thus saving much power. Another advantage it has over other similar machines is that there is no joint at the end of the knife, and the pitman is always in direct line with the knife. The cutter can be adjusted to any elevation required without stopping the knives. It will well repay the farmers to examine the machine while they have an opportunity. The agent is at the Pavilion and will take pleasure in showing it.

The display of fruits is the best ever made in this State, and Washoe county exhibits apples, grapes, pears and fruits and vegetables of all kinds that are certainly meritorious. The Honey Lake fruits on exhibition show that that valley is entitled to a place in the front rank of fruit-growing countries of California.

A Coat of Mail.

Over at Sheep ranch, California last week, a young lady attempted to take a loaded revolver out of the drawer of a sewing machine, when the weapon was discharged. The bullet struck her fairly and squarely over the heart. She fell to the floor dead, as all supposed, but at once came up smiling, and made another dash at the revolver. The ribs of her corset had turned aside the bullet. Their not being able to shoot themselves through the heart is probably the reason why most women suicide by taking poison. When cased in their armor they will not take a back seat for a mountain howitzer. About the only thing they fear is lightning, and that must be very forked.

A Voice from Lincoln.

The Pioche Record of last Saturday says: As the Hon. George W. Cassidy will arrive in Pioche to-day, and as he claims to be unaware of the fact that Nevada has any rivers, we suggest to his Democratic friends that as seeing is believing, they convince Mr. Cassidy of his error by taking him down and exhibiting to him the Rio Colorado, a large and great river, and the only water outlet to the sea of the inter-mountain country, and as feeling is the naked truth, they duck him into it several times. This would convince him that Nevada has got a river, and a large one too.

Now For Fun.

W. H. Davenport, the Republican candidate for Attorney-General has returned to Eureka from the East. He was the representative of the Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias at the Grand Lodges of the United States.

A late issue of the New York Herald contained special mention of the cure of Thaddeus David, Esq., of the great ink firm 127 William street, New York. He was suffering from rheumatic gout (an inherited ailment) and St. Jacobs' Oil cured him in 24 hours.

At Troy, New York, October 6, the Bank Examiners concluded their examination of the Manufacturers' National Bank. The defalcation of Cashier Wellington is reported at $31,515. The examiners say the institution is perfectly sound.

A Big Stack of Hay.

N. H. A. Mason, who has extensive ranches and large herds of cattle in Elko county, purchased 1,000 tons of hay in the stack at Mason Valley last week for $4 per ton.

The Afghan troops have reached against the Amoor.

STOCK AT THE FAIR.

Yesterday's Exhibit at the Agricultural Park.

The stock parade yesterday was very good. Lena Dunbar, the famous running mare with a record of 1:42, headed the line. Lena was followed by Red Boy, Duke of Monday, Duke of Oxford and Cousin Vic. Pritchard's Maria F. and Winters' Carrie W. all thoroughbreds; A. A. Lonley a graded Norman and a graded Langford, and a mare and sucking colt; Mr. — showed the grey Norman stallion, Daniel Hill; A. A. Smith had a yearling colt, and H. Stevens a graded stallion and family of six colts; Mr. Steiner exhibited a Norman stallion, and P. J. Kelly a brood mare and family of colts.

The following roadsters were paraded: Hayford's St. Nicholas; Dodd's Fred B.; Hooper with the Dean colt; J. L. McFarlin with his black buggy horse; Leete with his roan Lucas; a carriage team belonging to T. K. Hyman, and the two trotters, Wm. Tell and Carlisle, followed by Pendleton with a roadster.

Five head of B. F. Leete's thoroughbred Durhams headed the line of cattle, followed by P. N. Marker's three thoroughbred bulls, and two cows with calves.

A. A. Longley had the Duke of Truckee, a graded Durham; C. C. Stevenson, graded cow; J. O. Sessions, with two graded heifers; A. C. McFarlin exhibited several head of grade stock. The line was about half a mile long and the exhibition good.

AN EXPERIMENT.

A Systematic Scheme for Thorough Irrigation.

Smith J. Hill of Reno has taken up a tract of rich and nearly level bottom land in Spanish Springs Valley and has about 60 acres cleared, which is being divided into eight and ten-acre lots. A large reservoir has been constructed to hold an abundance of water to be let on the land, which is being cross-leveled so that the water can be turned on to one lot, and when that is flooded the water, by means of a succession of gates, is passed on to a second lot, and so on, until the entire field has been gone over, when the water, if needed, can again be turned on and the ground irrigated thoroughly according to the several levels. Mr. Hill is now engaged in sowing grass seed, and it is confidently believed that he will succeed to an extent that will astonish the natives.

Truckee Weather.

The Truckee Republican of the 4th says: The severest rain-storm that we have ever seen in Truckee has prevailed for the past two days. Early yesterday morning the rain commenced to fall, and it came down in torrents, without cessation, till late last evening, when it turned to snow. About an inch of snow fell, when it cleared off, and to-day it has alternated between hail, sleet and sunshine. All the mills are shut down and the logging teams stopped. The ground has had such a thorough soaking that it will take at least a week or ten days to dry it out so logging can be resumed. The roads to Sierra Valley and Tahoe are so slippery that teams can only haul half a load.

A Reformed Democrat.

Friday night, after the Republican meeting at the theater had been dismissed, a squad of Democrats collected on the Palace corner and were discussing the political situation, the drift of the remarks being in favor of the candidate who spent the most money for liquor. While settling national affairs in an off-hand manner, a new-comer put in the remark, "I'm converted. No more Democracy for me. I've been a Democrat all my life. To night I heard more sense than I ever heard before at a public meeting. I'm going for the Republican ticket."

Mines at Lewis.

Mr. Cozzens, the Postmaster at Lewis, Lander county, informs the Gazette that the camp is looking well. The Morning Star mine is proving rich in gold. It has a three-foot ledge that shows native gold. The company will build a mill soon. The Betty O'Neal is going down another hundred feet. The last level is good. They are putting up another boiler and are now fixed to handle the water. They will soon have their own mill. The chloride is leased to tributaries, who are taking out good ore.

Military Tournament.

The military tournament took place at the Park at 11 o'clock this morning. The Reno Guard was the only company on the ground. The company has improved greatly and shows careful training. They will be awarded the special premium of $100.

Sheep at the Fair.

Robert Branton, the sheep breeder, has fifty-four head of fine Merino sheep on exhibition at the Fair. They were bred from imported French stock, and some of them took a premium at the California State Fair last month.

There has been a drizzling rain all

LIGNITE AND GLASS.

A Chance For Ross' Capitalism to be

There are immense seams of lignite in the vicinity of Pyramid Lake. Samples have been brought to the GAZETTE office by parties who say there is an endless quantity of it at hand, and it can be quarried at small expense. If this be so, there is a chance to make some money. In its natural state lignite is tolerably good for steam fuel, but makes much smoke and ash, and throws out disagreeable fumes. These objections got rid of, the material will be valuable. The officers of the Northern Pacific are vigorously experimenting on fuel on different portions of the line, under charge of G. W. Cushing, Superintendent of motive power. Attention has been specially directed to a new process for making artificial fuel. It consists of pulverized lignite, mixed with soluble glass. The process has been in use in Wales since 1873. The material is compressed under a pressure of one ton to the square inch. It is formed into blocks of great density, resisting the action of water. They do not fall to pieces in the fire, nor clinker and increase the ash. It is claimed that the fuel has a greater evaporative power than an equal amount of coal. The density is greater than that of coal. The cost of the preparation is fifty cents per ton. The Northern Pacific people are corresponding with the inventor, W. H. Cory of Cardiff, Wales, who is now in the United States. It is his intention to visit Nevada and experiment on the line of the road. The company are testing other processes to utilize lignite, and are sanguine of success. Prof. Pumpelly, the scientist of the company, is experimenting in the same direction, and thus far with satisfactory results, though not quite prepared to make a report.

A WORD TO THE FARMER.

The value of barn-yard manure or any other fertilizer is admitted by every farmer. But what is the use of a fertilizer of any sort except to make land productive? And of what avail is productive land if you cannot sell the product? The great question after all, for the farmer, therefore, is the question of a market—but what market? There are two markets for the farmer—the foreign market and the home market. Which is the most desirable? Why, the home market, of course, because it is in the sale of his products in the home market that the farmer makes his money, and it is for that reason that only the surplus that he cannot sell in the home market is sent abroad. Everyone of the 50,000,000 of our home population consumed on the average last year $160 worth of that which was produced by agricultural labor and capital. Now suppose our 50,000,000 of population were not able to buy that much—suppose the consumption to fall to $80 to each person! Who would be the greater sufferer? Why, the farmer, of course. It would be ruin to him. Well, that is precisely what would happen if Democratic free trade were inaugurated again, and the wages of the laborer, the mechanic, the artisan, the professional man reduced, as they would be reduced, to starvation rates. Let the farmer see to it first that protection to labor is continued, and then attend to the other fertilizers.

WILL IT GROW?

A great many of our best posted farmers believe that there are thousands of acres of fine lands in Washoe county that will raise fine wheat without irrigation. If this is true it will make a change in this county such as came over California when its capacity for agriculture was discovered. In order to encourage those who have teams and tools to work with, the GAZETTE has raised a premium to be given in 1883 by the Society for the best samples from 10 acres of wheat raised without irrigation on sagebrush land. In an extensive correspondence on the subject we have learned that a brand of seed known as "Odessa" does the best in dry climate. It has been tried thoroughly in Nebraska and Kansas, where it has yielded well and made very fine flour. Judge Waterson of Marysville, Kansas, has shown a willingness to oblige, and we recommend any of our friends who take an interest in the matter to correspond with him.

A NEW CAR COUPLER.

Humanitarians have been seolding ever since the invention of the locomotive at the immense loss of life and limb suffered by the classes who have to handle the trains. Inventors have studied hard and tried to get up an automatic coupler that would do away with the necessity of brakemen going between the cars to couple or uncouple them. Over 4,000 such inventions have been patented, and one for passenger trains has been found very satisfactory. N. D. Mussey of Reno has just received a patent for the one described elsewhere, which for simplicity, cheapness and effectiveness, would be a great advance over the old drawhead.

AN INTERESTING FEATURE.

The chief signal officer of the United States is collecting popular weather proverbs and prognostics used among all classes—Indians, negroes, Chinese, and others. He sends us one to be filled out by those who have any or know of any. Blanks for proverbs relating to the sun, moon, stars, meteors, comets, rainbows, fogs, dew, clouds, frost, snow, thunder, winds, prognostics from the actions of animals, birds, fish, reptiles, trees, furniture, proverbs of days of the week, months, seasons, and year, with other popular sayings are given.

A sailor named Joe Hanson shot and instantly killed a sailor boarding-house keeper in San Francisco last night. It is the first instance of the kind on record. The killing has always been the other way. The man should have a pension.

So far in this campaign Jewett Adams has not put in an appearance on the platform. His limited knowledge of the language prevents him from making a speech and he does not dare trust himself on the rostrum. That's what the Carson Appeal says.

The telegraph lines are not working well to-day, in consequence of the storm. The GAZETTE, therefore, is without its usual quantity of dispatches.

The Mormons say they will freely spend money to beat Cassidy for taking the post in casting Cannon

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Democrats won the Ohio election yesterday. Governor Foster accounts for the Republican defeat on the ground that they had eight or ten candidates in each district, and that bitter fights were made. He assigns as another reason that the liquor interest went over in a body to the Democratic party, not only furnishing means but were active in polling a full vote. He is of the opinion that if the Republicans had brought out their full vote the Democrats would not have carried the State. Let this be a warning to Nevada Republicans to spur them on to campaign work for the 7th of November.

In a recent speech Blaine said: I challenge any gentleman to show that in the whole twenty-one years the Democratic party and its various side issues, like the Greenback and Labor and other organizations, has ever proposed a measure that was able to be materialized into the form of a bill or resolve in the Congress of the United States for the amelioration of any human woe, or for the advancement of any public good.

The Austin Democrat appeals to its party to try to break the blow. It says:

Will some Democratic editor or writer please take hold of this challenge and do something with it?

Some of our merchants are beginning gradually to open their stores on Sunday. This is in opposition to a wise law both of nature and the Legislature, which says that everything that works should rest one day in seven. It will detract from Reno's reputation without adding to her business to have all the stores running on Sunday. If all close up there can be no advantage, and it will benefit the whole, adding to the value of property and to the volume of business in the end.

The name of Theodore Winters has been substituted on the Washoe county Democratic ticket for the State Senate in place of that of the Hon. W. E. Berry, declined. Theo. Winters ought to be a hard horse to curry, and we are inclined to think his Republican opponent won't be a "Marker" for him in the November race.—Virginia Chronicle.

It becomes the GAZETTE's duty to inform the Chronicle that there may be "Winters" when Theo. will occupy a seat in the State Senate, but not this Winter. "Marker" down so it won't be forgotten.

The Reno GAZETTE says: "If the Republicans of the Great East can hold their own, those of the small West will make a majority." The East will more than hold its own, and if Eureka county does not give 150 majority we are "not a prophet nor the son of a prophet." So thinks the Eureka Leader.

Eureka Leader: Jack Perry, an old Democratic war horse, says: "I have known Strother for twenty years, and I defy any man to say anything against his character as a man or a citizen." This is just such a manly acknowledgement as might be expected from Colonel Perry, whose political proclivities never deter him from giving an honest opinion.

The Carson Index refuses to support the Ormsby county Republican ticket and has gone over to the Democracy. C. N. Harris is still its editor.

The Eureka Leader says scarcely a corporal's guard turned out to hear Cassidy and Merrill in any place in Elko county.

Only 26 copies of Guiteau's book have been sold.

November Meteors.

A brilliant display of meteors is looked for in November, for the reason that the present year has been exceptionally prolific of celestial and electrical phenomena. If we are not badly fooled the Nevada Democracy will wake up on the morning of the 8th of that month with the firm belief that the sun and moon and all the other heavenly bodies have been showered down on this part of the universe. In fact, there will be a "conjunction," as astronomers say, that will astonish not a few.

The Douglas County Ticket. The Douglas County Republican Convention last Saturday nominated the following ticket: Henry Vansickle, State Senator; Assemblyman, A. C. Pratt; Recorder, George Smith; Sheriff, H. P. Burroughs; Clerk, A. B. Boles; Treasurer, A. Livingston; Assessor, Noah Blossom; County Commissioner (long term), M. H. Cary; District Attorney, D. W. Virgin; Public Administrator, Koppel Rice; County Surveyor, C. P. Young.

Colonel George W. Macfarlane, Aid to King Kalakaua, monarch of the Sandwich Islands, went through Reno this morning on his way to Portugal, to which country he is accredited as Special Commissioner from Hawaii, to promote immigration of laborers to work on the sugar plantations of the islands.

Harry Ott was found dead Saturday at Portland, Oregon.

GOOD NEWS.

A Market Opened for Nevada with the East.

The Eureka Sentinel is informed that the Union Pacific and Central Pacific railroads have made an adjustment of rates by which the people of Nevada will hereafter be enabled to get their goods from the East—New York, Chicago, St. Louis, or anywhere else—without paying tribute to San Francisco. The details of the adjustment cannot be given at present. It may be stated, however, that a very material reduction has been made in the freight on staple articles, especially on hardware and groceries. On all of such articles the freight will hereafter be never more from New York or Chicago to Reno, or any other point in Nevada, than it has hitherto been from San Francisco to the same point, and on some of the articles the freight will be less—that is to say, you can buy any of the staple articles of the sort referred to in the East and have them laid down for the same freight that you would have to pay from San Francisco, and on some of the articles the freight will be less. To say the least of this adjustment it gives the people of Nevada the benefit of Eastern prices. Instead of buying in San Francisco goods shipped thither from the East, paying the middle-man his profits, which includes freight, handling and percentage, you buy from a cheap market direct. The advantage to Nevada, particularly now, in these times of depression and enforced economy, can hardly be overestimated. Everybody will be benefited by it, directly or indirectly, the merchant, the miner, the lawyer, the doctor, our sisters and our cousins and our aunts. And the prettiest part of the story is that the tantalizing and disastrous delay of seeing our freight go by us to be hauled back from over the Sierras, will cease. The understanding is that all freight will be shipped to its destination direct.

A CORNER ON BEEF.

A Great Increase in Price Probable During the Coming Winter.

The price that beef may reach in the next few months lies entirely with a few men who have not only secured the entire supply of beef cattle available for this State, but by a combination of circumstances have been enabled to shut out all chance of supply from outside sources they do not control. The latest wholesale quotations for beef cattle in San Francisco are seven and a half and eight cents for prime, nine to nine and a half cents for stall fed, six and a half to seven cents for second quality, and five and a half to six cents for the poorest beef in the market. The opinion of those most competent to judge is that before February fifteen cents will be asked for prime, and from eight and a half to twelve cents for all inferior grades, and that even these high prices will be still farther advanced, unless the increase in prices causes a large falling off in consumption. For some time these prices will cause a serious reduction in the profits of the restaurants, which will be finally compelled to advance their prices. Many of San Francisco's most cherished institutions will thereby be swept away. The restaurant which supplies its customers with a plate of meat, bread, vegetables, butter and coffee for fifteen cents, will have to succumb to the bull beef ring, and no compensating establishment will be found to take its place.

There is no such thing as "grading" beef among Reno butchers. They pay the same price for an old skeleton of a cow as they do for a prime fat steer. Beef is selling here for less than in San Francisco, because, perhaps, most of the dealers have a stock of cattle on hand; but what the price will be when they find it difficult to obtain animals fit for slaughter, no one can tell. Probably they will not be far behind their San Francisco brethren in their charges.

The Beauty Prize.

Miss Lexie Finlayson was awarded Knowles & Bainbridge's special premium of a stove by 95 majority on Saturday evening at the Pavilion, for being the handsomest woman in the hall. This evening another special premium will be given to the best dressed lady present.

Notice to Voters.

Particular attention should be called to the fact that the stipulated time for registration is fast drawing to a close, and those who desire to vote this Fall must not fail to get their names on the register before the 20th inst.

The Handsomest Girl.

Miss Ella Mills was voted the handsomest girl at the Catholic Fair at Kimball Hall Tuesday eve, and awarded the prize. She had 71 admirers, and that number gave her a good majority.

Benefited Already.

The Susanville Advocate says: "The Reno and Susanville stages connect with the N. & O. R. R. at Oneida, giving us our mail about two hours earlier than heretofore."

Plenty of Hay.

It is estimated that no less than 85,000 tons of hay was produced in Sierra Valley this year. It is a low estimate at that.

Going Below.

The Carson Guard will send a team of twelve men to take part in the annual shooting at Shell Mound Park, Oakland.

Senator J. P. Jones went to San Francisco Saturday night. He will return during the latter part of the week and engage in campaign work.

F. R. McConnell of Salt Lake is registered at the Depot. He is General Agent of the Union Pacific Railroad Company at the City of Saints.

There will now be quietness in the hair of the tiger, and chuck-a-luck, rouge et noir and other traps for the unwary will be laid aside until next Fair time.

Miss Van Syckle, Carson, was awarded Seymour, Moyer & Co.'s premium (hat rack) for being the most tastefully dressed lady at the pavilion Wednesday evening.

The Pullman palace car Izaak Walton went east this morning in charge of a porter, after discharging its load of hunters and fishermen on the other side of the mountains.

Almost all honest voters have declared their intention to vote for the best men at the coming election, and this ought to insure the success of the entire Republican ticket.

But nine days now remain in which to register. Voters will bear the fact in mind. Unless registered you cannot take a hand on election day. Don't get shut out, Republicans.

Bishop Whitaker went to San Francisco, in response to a telegram from Crittenden Thornton and Seth Cook, to officiate at the funeral of Daniel Cook, the mining millionaire.

T. H. Goodman, General Passenger Agent of the Central Pacific, has gone East to arrange a through passenger rate to the East, via Denver and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy route.

Old Winnemucca, the ancient chief of the Piantes, is slowly dying at Buffalo Meadows, in Roop county. According to Piantes chronology, the venerable warrior is about 95 years old.

A large quantity of shoes and dies, with other quartz-mill appurtenances, are at the freight depot, awaiting shipment to Plumas, where they have to lay in a winter's supply of such things.

The N. & O. road is picking up quite a number of travelers. The new passenger car is comfortable and neat, and will be appreciated by up country tourists, as it takes off 30 miles of stage jolting.

Dan Garrard, late Deputy Warden of the State Prison, passed through Reno Saturday night en route to California, where he goes to reside permanently. He will devote his time to placer mining.

N. H. Kendall, long a resident of Reno, goes East next week to live. Mr. Kendall was once a conductor on the Central Pacific and V. & T. roads, but of late has been employed in Mr. Bragg's lumber yard.

The comet this morning was a grand sight. It spread its tail like a proud peacock. It is at its peak of magnificence. The celestial show will be free to observers but a few days longer, as it will soon fall to rise above our horizon.

Wm. P. McIntosh of Aurora, Esmeralda county, arrived from San Francisco Sunday on his way home. He will immediately begin the construction of a 10-stamp mill at Aurora, that will be first-class in every respect.

"What did you say the conductor's name was?" "Glass—Mr. Glass." "Oh, no!" "But it is." "Impossible—it can't be." "And why not, pray?" "Because, sir, glass is a non-conductor." Deafening applause from the scientific passengers.

Hon. Pat Reddy, Democratic nominee for California State Senator from Mono, Tulare and Fresno counties, went through Reno Saturday night. He is on his way to Tulare and Fresno, where, he believes, his principal fight lies, and spend most of his time in those counties and Kern until the election.

A Carson Romance.

The Appeal says there is a man in that city who, having been divorced from his wife for nearly twenty years, will leave there in a day or two for California to marry the partner of his early manhood. He has been neither his wife or children in all that time. Three daughters who were more children when he last saw them are

SUNDAY'S RACES.

A Large Attendance, Exciting Contest and Lively Betting.

The races Sunday were largely attended and very interesting. The first was a two-mile and repeat trot, with Carlisle, Alonza Hayward and Pilot as starters. The pools sold $20 for Carlisle, $6 for Hayward and $4 for Pilot. Carlisle took the first heat, with Alonza Hayward second and Pilot behind the red flag at the draw gate. Time, 5:27. Carlisle took the second heat and race.

The second race was a mile and repeat (running) between Overland Pat, Snuff Box and Ernest. Pat found plenty of backers at $20, against $5 for Ernest and $4 for Snuff Box. The first heat Ernest won in 1:32½, with Pat at his throat latch and under a heavy pull, and Snuff Box two open lengths in the rear. The second heat Pat won in 2:53, with Snuff Box a good second and Ernest trailing. The third heat Snuff Box came in half a length ahead of old Pat and Ernest taking their dust. At this point betters could see that Pat was very tired, and that unless something happened Pat would get left in the next heat. They went to the pool box and played in considerable money on the field at $20 for $4 and $5 on Overland. One gentleman, who had $500 in the box, on Pat, went to the judges with the charge of jobbery, and requested that Pat's rider be changed. The judges mounted Patsy Duffy, a jockey from San Francisco, on Overland, which restored confidence that the old horse would take the cake. They got a good start and Snuff Box took the lead from the wire and maintained his position to the three-quarter pole, Duffy making it as easy on his horse as possible to that point, when he made a brush for the lead. It was an exciting contest down the stretch. At the draw gate Pat collared Snuff Box, when Duffy said "now or never," and gave his horse the gaffs and "landed him in a masterly manner," winning the heat and race, with Snuff Box second and Ernest three lengths behind. Time, 2:52. A purse was made up and given to Duffy for winning the race.

The next race was a mile dash, between Ballot Box, Jr., and Katie Keys. Ballot Box came in an easy winner. Time, slow.

Wm. Tell, Roanoke and Dutchman were then brought out for the three-in-five trot. Pools sold: $20 for Tell, $14 for Roanoke and $10 for Dutchman. Dutchman took the first heat, Tell second and Roanoke third. Time, 2:40½. Roanoke took the next two heats, when the trot was postponed until to-day.

At the Track.

In the tournament Monday morning Misses Finlayson and Clarke and Mrs. Galt took a turn around the track for $20, in addition to the usual performance. Mrs. Galt held back at the start, but came in in fine style, while the others never got in. The premiums will be awarded at the Pavilion this evening. The lady with the dark blue ribbon will get first premium, the light blue second, lavender third, cardinal fourth, the dark blue and light red tied for the fifth, and the white seventh. In the trot postponed from yesterday Dutchman came in ahead on the first heat, but was placed third for running. Tell first and Roanoke second. In the next heat Roanoke came in ahead, but Tell was given the heat because Roanoke's driver broke Tell by yelling. Time, 2:43. Tell won the last heat in 2:41. Joe Howell and Frank Rhodes ran in the mile-and-three-eighths dash, which Howell won in 2:26½. In the mile dash for two-year-olds, Form beat Baldy Green in 2:05½. The last race was mile heats, three in five, for district horses—Slim Jim, General and Woodburn. Woodburn won the first heat in 2:46½. Slim Jim won the second heat in 2:41. General distanced.

Large Funeral.

The funeral of J. J. Duffy, Sr., was largely attended at Carson Sunday. A number of friends went from Reno, and still more from Virginia and vicinity. Deceased was well known and respected by a large circle of acquaintances. The Appeal says: The deceased was 60 years of age and born in county Mayo, Ireland. He came to this country from Australia when quite young. Besides his wife the deceased leaves four daughters, the wife of ex-Congressman Woodburn, Mrs. T. L. Smith, of San Francisco, Mrs. H. Rice, and Josie Duffy, also three sons, George, James and Edward. His funeral took place yesterday at 2 o'clock under the auspices of the Odd Fellows Lodge, an organization of which he has been a member in good standing for nearly 40 years. As he was in the Endowment rank, his wife will receive the benefit from the Order.

Accident at Cuba.

Henry Fassett, a brakeman on an eastern-bound special, had a narrow escape from death while his train was passing through the railroad bridge at Cuba Sunday. Fassett was standing on the top of a box car, when his head struck the bridge timbers knocking him senseless. Fortunately he fell on the roof of the car instead of under the wheels, and escaped with only a bruised head.

The Last Victim.

Thomas Gregor, who was killed by a freight train near Brown's Station on the C. P. Sunday, was 25 years old, had two brothers in Elko county, and a father and two other brothers at

THE RACES.

Exciting Times at the Track Monday—Lively Races and Big Crowds.

After the GAZETTE went to press Monday, Slim Jim took the third heat in 2:43½. The fourth heat Slim Jim came out ahead, but was set back for running; time 2:49. Each horse now had two heats and the situation was very exciting. Complaints were made against both drivers and the judges ordered new men up behind both horses. There was a long wrangle over the change, and it was only by President Hymers' firmness and decision that a serious row was averted. People on the track advised Lige Downer not to give up his sulky, but he said he was obliged to obey the judges. They then tried to scare the new driver out of the sulky, but he said he had no desire to force a contest. He drove the race in first-rate style, after getting Slim Jim down from a bad break just after the start. He won the heat and race. Time, 2:47½. There was a big kick on account of the William Tell decisions in the postponed race. He was given two heats on account of the other horses running, and there was a howl all over the grounds that the judges were unjust. A GAZETTE reporter interviewed them, and they said they were going by the rules, and had no choice except to give to the horse that trotted most and fastest. A made up quarter of a mile race was run between heats by Shooting Gallery of Greenville and Doc Bentley's Queen Victoria. Shooting Gallery came in ahead, but it was declared a dead heat and another dash was taken after the trot. This was also declared a dead heat and the race postponed until noon to-day.

LAST DAY OF THE RACES.

The owners of the two horses in the quarter-mile race drew their money to-day and the race was declared off. In the three-in-five trot the pools sold: Queen $20, Fred Arnold $8 and the field $3. Crabb took the first heat in 2:41, Queen second, Arnold third, Douglas distanced. Crabb won the second heat in 2:45½. Arnold won the third heat, Queen second. Time, 2:42.

Not About Horse Races.

Horse-racing does not appear to engage so much of the attention of the sports that they lose sight of the older style of speed contests—foot races. Al Skinner, an amateur runner of some notoriety throughout the State, had not been in town 24 hours before—Wilson was matched to run him a 50-yard race. A forfeit of $20 a side is up and the race is expected to be run at the track to-morrow. As Skinner is known to be lively on his legs and his opponent contends that he is livelier, there will probably be considerable money exchanged on the result. There are several light-footed runners in Reno who can get plenty of backing, and the race to-morrow may be only a forerunner of some very interesting contests among our local sprinters.

New Road to Steamboat.

C. F. Moeler and some of his neighbors have dug a road around the hill from Crane's bridge to the V. & T. track, which saves about three quarters of a mile in distance between Reno and Steamboat. Instead of turning to the right at the school house it goes to the left on the Virginia road down the hill, and turns off to the right again at Steam creek, and follows the track up. It will be a great deal smoother and better road than the old one, when it is worked a little.

Notice to Voters.

Persons intending to vote must see that they are registered before 6 o'clock p. m., on October 20th. A great many are under the impression that the 21st is the last day, but reference to the statute will show that no legal registration can be done after the 20th. For ten days before the 20th the books are open until 9 o'clock in the evening, but on the last day they close at 6 p. m., as will be seen by notice in another column. Don't fail to get registered in time.

The Verdi School.

Following is the report of the Verdi public school for the month ending Sept. 29th: Whole number of days attendance, 333; whole number of days absence, 20; whole number of boys enrolled, 19; whole number of girls enrolled, 13; total, 32. Percentage of attendance, 94. Roll of Honor—Nancy Laughton, Annie Gordon, Marcia Bacon, Willie Keller, Charles Laughton, Jimmie Henry, Katie Laughton, Ellen Gordon, Josephine Bonin, George Foulks, Claud Merrill, Burnett Keller.

ADDIS PARK, Teacher.

Killed by the Cars.

A brakeman named Thomas Gregor fell from the west bound freight train at Hot Springs Sunday morning, and was run over and instantly killed. His remains were taken to Winnemucca for interment. He was a young man and unmarried. He has a brother living at Winnemucca.

A Hint to Capitalists.

The Carson Tribune ejects the following: "He, be or it who thinks that Reno is a better town than Carson is mistaken, for it is not, and over will be until the beautiful Truckee is utilized as it should be."

Horse-dish.

The Enterprise says horse-dish sells for thirty-five cents per pound on the Comstock. It can be obtained

THE WINNING NUMBERS.

Result of the Drawing at St. Mary's Wednesday Night.

The prize scheme projected by the Sisters of St. Mary's school was impartially carried out, and Wednesday night there was a drawing, with the following result. But one ticket was sold in Reno, and that proved a winner:

Ticket No. 219—Sixty acres of good farming land in Nevada, drawn by Mr. Holtzborn, of 308 Elk street, Buffalo, New York.

No. 2879—House and lot in Reno, Nevada, drawn by Mrs. Anna Burk, 354 Poplinton street, corner of Mulberry, Baltimore city, Maryland.

No. 3013—Pair of carriage horses, drawn by Miss Mary Whelan, of Reno.

No. 1163—Piano, drawn by Mrs. J. Clements, of 713 Taylor street, San Francisco.

Truckee Items.

[Truckee Republican October 7.]

The past season has been a remarkably good one for dairymen. A petition is being circulated in the lower end of the county for the pardon of Geo. W. Smith, who in July, 1880, shot and killed T. W. Sigourney, the capitalist, and was sent to State Prison for 20 years.

The Board of Supervisors have levied a special tax of 70 cents on the $100 to build a school house in Pleasant Valley district.

Large quantities of hides, wool and hay are daily arriving from Sierra Valley.

Sam Page, a dairyman in Squaw Valley, killed seven large deer near that place Thursday last.

Large flocks of ducks and geese can be seen every morning in the vicinity of the ice pond.

The dairymen have already commenced "pulling up stakes" and striking for the valley with their stock.

The weather for the past few days has been decidedly mixed. Hail, rain and sunshine, with an occasional snow storm, have prevailed. The roads are all reported in bad condition, and the logging teams are all laid up.

County Contests.

The State candidates and speakers are out of the way, and the county ticket will now begin to boil. There are several close fights for the county offices, and it is well to understand where the hard work will come in. Mr. Emmet is a first-class man, and his party is justified in doing everything they possibly can for him, for he will make a fine officer. He is opposed to a popular gentleman who will run well. The Judgeship is a prize either party may be glad to win. Judge King's friends claim that out of 21 of his cases that went to the Supreme Court, 17 were sustained and four reversed. They are working hard, and it will take hard work and good management to stand them off.

A Cloud of Knights.

O. C. Wheeler, general baggage agent of the Central Pacific Railroad, who passed through Reno a day or two ago, while east made arrangements for the transportation of delegates to the Knights Templar Encampment at San Francisco next season. He arranged for the transportation of 10,000 Knights.

Good One Coming.

The ore now being brought to Reno from the Potosi mine, Candelaria, for reduction at the English mill, is of much better quality than any heretofore received here from that mine and will probably yield the shippers a good profit.

The Presbyterian Synod announced its annual session Friday evening at Napa, California.

Six men who left Victoria, B. C. in a small boat for San Juan Island, are believed to have been drowned.

The Republican Candidates Take Virginia City by Storm.

According to the Enterprise, the meeting at Virginia on Tuesday was a great success. When Mr. Chubbuck arose to introduce Hon. C. C. Powning, the Republican nominee for Congress, but was interrupted by an outbreak of enthusiastic applause, it was evident that the people expected Mr. Powning to make the speech of the evening, and in this they were not disappointed. Mr. Powning congratulated the people upon the fact that they manifested by their presence upon so important an evening their interest in public and political affairs. The elective franchise he held to be the choicest blessing a great people can enjoy. That some abuse this privilege is to be regretted, but this was only an additional reason that every thinking man, every lover of his country, should see that his ballot was cast in the interest of good government and the right. There must always be two great contending parties, and he was one who believed that under

THE REPUBLICAN BANNER.

The United States would advance to the first place among the great nations of the earth. In her history there would be no brighter pages than those volumes written by the Republican party and sealed with the blood of such martyrs as Abraham Lincoln and James A. Garfield. [Applause.] Mr. Powning referred to the recent elections in Oregon, Vermont and Maine to show that the people still retain their faith in the greatness and integrity of the Republican party—the party that saved and preserved the Union. He said no one could call to mind a single Democrat in Congress, or on this coast, who had made a great speech or who had put forth any noble personal effort for the restriction of Chinese immigration, while such men as Hon. A. A. Sargent and Hon. John F. Miller, of California, and Hon. William Woodburn, Hon. Thomas Wren and Hon. John P. Jones, of this State, have devoted years to the matter. Mr. Powning was applauded for saying that if elected he would use his best endeavors to secure the passage of what is known as the Reagan bill, which is intended to regulate inter-State railroad traffic.

Mr. Powning called attention to the fact that the Republican platform advocates the establishment of a postal telegraph, and that to Senator Jones is due the present favorable position occupied by silver. Also, that while

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Approves the payment of pensions to the men who fought to preserve the Union, the Democratic platform maintains silence on that point. He said that at any rate and all times he was willing to go out of his way to accommodate or assist any of the veterans of the Mexican war or war of the rebellion. "If I vote for any River and Harbor bill," said Mr. Powning, "I will see that Nevada gets $50,000 or $100,000 out of the big sack to improve her rivers, such as the Truckee, Walker and others. I would also try to get $75,000 or $100,000 appropriated for the erection of government buildings in this State, where the offices of the Government officials could be located. But my pet scheme—the one before which every other scheme which I have ever advocated for the benefit of the people sinks into insignificance—is to secure legislation whereby the general government shall donate to the State of Nevada every acre of land within her borders. The funds arising from the sale of these lands shall be devoted not only to the improvement of the natural water ways of the State, but to the construction of vast aqueducts and reservoirs, and the sinking of artesian wells, so that the many thousands of fertile acres that now lie uncultivated may be irrigated and brought under cultivation.

"You will pardon me, I know," said Mr. Powning, "if for a few moments I devote my attention to the idle vapors of a diseased mind." The people evidently knew that he was about to speak of the Evening Chronicle, for there was a rustle of expectation that grew into a round of applause. "Notwithstanding the assertion that there is no personal animosity against me, yet it seems that I am a candidate against whom all the filth and slime of the campaign is to be hurled by the Democratic press. It has not been said that I am intemperate or dishonest. It is not said that I have ever betrayed the people, or that I have been unfaithful to any public trust." He answered the charge that he is a rat, and explained that he was not at home when

THE DAILY ARTICLE.

Was written, and closed by saying: "I will ask any candid person who is familiar with my career—from the time when I was a boy carrying drills in the Heuston mine at Grass Valley, as a newsboy on the train running into Sacramento, as brakeman on the railroad between this city and Carson, or as a printer struggling to make a living in Reno, and not living on quail on trout, and on fancy roasts, but on corned beef and cabbage and pork and beans—I will ask any such person, I say, whether it is possible for them to believe that I am not fairly and fully in sympathy with the working classes and whether I could be anything but true to them and their interests, under any and all circumstances." [Applause.] Mr. Powning said that he invited the closest investigation of his career, private and public, and that he would in the future as he had in the past, so conduct himself that no citizen would ever have occasion to regret having voted for him.

At the close of his address Mr. Powning was unanimously applauded.

AT THE PAVILION.

A Grand Display in Every Department—Nevada Coming to the Front.

The Trustees of the Society have reason to congratulate themselves on the exhibition in every department at the Pavilion. It is certainly the best ever made and a credit to the State as well as exhibitors. In the center of the upper room the San Francisco Soap Company have a good exhibit of soaps. A Lindley, one of Reno's leading merchants, makes a good display of canned goods, extracts, cheese, etc.

Sylvester, Moyer & Co. of Stockton have a fine display of furniture, musical instruments, etc. Among the most notable articles of their display are their magnificent pianos, two organs and several very beautiful little house desks, two "cheffoniers," very convenient and useful for the chamber, besides being a very beautiful piece of furniture; solid black walnut bed room sets with the latest styles of bureau and combination wash stands. The dressing cases have large plate-glass mirrors and marble tops. On the lower floor this firm shows several cottage sets of imitation oak and walnut made of kiln-dried Oregon pine and Oregon ash. One of the most useful articles they exhibit is a kitchen cabinet. The upper department of the upper part of the cabinet is provided with shelves for dishes. Immediately below the shelves is a drawer for knives, forks, spoons, etc.; also a drawer for table linen. Just below the drawers is a shelf for soda, cream-tartar, etc., under which are four compartments for flour and meal, covered, when closed, with the bread board. The board is so arranged that it can be opened out into a large kitchen table. Below this are two drawers for rice, tapioca, spices, etc. The whole thing when closed does not occupy more than 2x3½ feet and is very complete. The cabinet can be bought for $20, and that is certainly very cheap for so useful an article. Mr. Moyer, a member of the firm is at the pavilion and will take any orders left with him.

F. Levy & Bros. make a good showing of dry and fancy goods and hosiery. Their exhibit is in the west end of the building. The south wall is covered with quilts, coverlets and rugs. In the south show case is a nice collection of cut flowers of Nevada production. Merklinger has a display of harness and saddles.

Warden Garrard, of the State Prison, exhibits samples of the goods he makes at that institution. The prison convicts make quite a showing of stone prayer books—the only kind used in Nevada's penitentiary—work-boxes, picture-frames, silk bridles, etc. In this case is a choice collection of fancy work, besides the display of millinery goods.

The California Syrup of Figs Company show enough physic to regulate the coast, if properly taken.

Mrs. Julia Prescott displays a large and very beautiful stock of millinery goods, the best on exhibition.

Mrs. Forster, of Carson, has a very creditable showing of millinery and fancy goods.

Cook & Butler, Reno, have a case of work in photography.

The north case is filled with fancy work of all descriptions, and the display is proof conclusive that Nevada ladies are not behind in needle-work. Ladies' embroidered under garments and baby fixings are in great variety.

The north wall is covered with works of art. Mrs. W. R. Jenney makes a splendid exhibition of oil paintings and bric-a-brac work. Mrs. W. A. Walker has a choice selection of paintings and fancy work; also Mrs. R. H. Lindsay. T. F. Laycock has several landscapes, portraits and crayon work. Miss Lou Addison, Mrs. Torp and Miss Mell Wright, Virginia, each display a beautiful collection of paintings. The exhibition on the first floor is creditable and will be referred to to-morrow.

Truckee Items.

[Truckee Republican October 4.] The Tallac House has been closed for the season.

The stage line between Sierraville and Downville, which was hauled off last week, has again been established.

John Hughes, who killed Jacob Warren at Downville last week, by crushing his head with a stone, has been bound over for trial in the sum of $7,000. He readily furnished bail.

Mrs. C. B. Crocker, Mrs. Crouch and Mrs. A. L. Bender came down from Idlewild Monday. They brought their ponies and other domestic animals down with them, and will not return again this season.

Work has been suspended on the new round house for the past day or two on account of the storm.

Travel to the lake keeps up, notwithstanding the unpropitious weather. Several went up yesterday morning.

The insurance adjusters have settled with Thompson & Stone, by paying them $1,450, for the loss of their shingle mill.

If the new passenger tariff is finally decided to be four cents a mile, the fare from Truckee to Sacramento will be $4 76.

On the Warpath.

Hon. E. Strother, the Republican candidate for Governor, Uncle George Tuffy, on the ticket for State Treasurer, and J. M. Dormer, the next Secretary of State, accompanied by J. A. Stephens, left Thursday for the great east. The quartette made lots of friends here last night.

Registration of Voters.

Registration closes on Saturday, October 21st. Those who wish to vote at the coming election must register on or before that day.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Republican Mass Meeting at Carson Wednesday Night.

The gathering at the Opera House last night, says the Appeal, the enthusiasm of the multitude and the eloquence of the speakers, made a pleasing picture which gladdened every Republican. The reception given the candidates was hearty, genuine and satisfactory. The greeting to Mr. Powning was a royal rebuke to the attacks of the Chronicle upon his past life, and if indications amount to anything our next Congressman will go out of Ormsby county with 800 majority, along with Messrs. Strother, Leonard, Tuffy, Hallock, Dormer and Harlow and the balance of the ticket. Mr. Powning's speech was sharp and pithy, and W. W. Bishop delivered one of those original speeches of his, which rang with the eloquence of the true orator. It glowed with flashes of the speaker's peculiar wit, and was full of caustic criticism and aggressive logic. The work of "bringing down the house" was a regular business of Mr. Bishop.

Hay and Cattle.

The Greenview Bulletin says the abundance of hay in Honey Lake valley this season has made it cheaper than for some years past. It is now selling in the Tule Confederacy at from $5 to $6 per ton, against $8 to $8 a ton previously. As the price of beef is steadily increasing in the lower country and Eastern markets, the Honey Lake cattle owners ought to make considerable profit. Mr. Byers will feed about 1,500 head on his place this winter. On most of the ranches, however, the hay is sold to men who make a business of buying hay in the northern counties and Oregon and taking cattle there to fatten. From 3,000 to 4,000 are fattened in the district every year.

A Beautiful Exhibition of Skill.

Miss Retta Hooper, 10 years of age, was ruled out of the tournament on account of her age. A purse of $25 was raised and the little girl mounted her pony and flew around the track in good style, after the other ladies left the track. The horse she rode is Richardson's Lyman Brown, a runner from Carson Sink. As the beautiful animal and his charming young rider flew by the stand a perfect storm of applause went up from the crowd. She rides with perfect ease, and the horse seemed to feel even more enthusiasm than if he was in a race. He was led to the score by his owner, and as soon as he was turned loose he flew away in long and rapid leaps, with little Retta leaning forward, holding a tight rein on him and riding like a jockey.

Thursday's Tournament.

In the ladies' tournament Miss M. Smith, Miss A. Finlayson, Mrs. J. A. Ferguson, Mrs. J. Galt and Miss Chrissy Andrews of Reno and Misses A. L. and M. E. Clarke of Greenville contended. In the first turn Miss Annie Clarke, who was riding without a saddle, was crowded off her horse and fell to the ground. In leaping the hurdle Miss Ella Clarke slipped off when her horse refused to take the hurdle, and Mrs. Galt fell heavily once. They were quickly righted, however, and no one was the worse for the little accidents.

The Annual Ball.

The Trustees of the Agricultural Society are proving excellent managers. The ball last evening was one of the pleasantest ever given here. It was a wise idea to charge a good price for tickets, as it kept away a mob that never dance and only take up room. The Reno band furnished the music and the lights were not turned out till nearly morning. Quite a number of strangers were present from Carson, Virginia, and the towns up north.

Roll of Honor.

The following is the roll of honor for the school at Brown's station on the V. & T. R. R., Miss M. Richards teacher: Laura Brown, Charlie Brown, Nellie Brown, Sadie Wright, Fannie Wright, Jimmie Wright, Clara Clow, May Clow, Dick Clow, Grace Clow, Julia Clow, Bennie Howard, Charles Davenport, Lee Harden, Ernie Harden, Mamie Harden, Daisy Harden, Walter Gammans.

Pure Milk.

It is the pride of A. T. Rice's heart to deliver in a gentlemanly manner—from neat and tasty wagons propelled by fine teams—pure, undefiled milk from No. 1 cows grazed on No. 1 alfalfa. Witness his tasty outfit, driven to the doors of all who desire rich, nourishing milk that gladdens your heart and makes for grow on your breast.

Cattle at Pasture.

At Big Bend, about sixty miles from Reno, there are about 2,000 head of cattle pasturing, and at the sink of the Carson Valley and others have 6,000 head. It is said that black-leg has attacked them. A Gazette reporter was so informed.

Rebuilding Their Mill.

Thompson & Stone are only waiting for carpenters to rebuild their burned shingle mill at Pacific, a mile above Boca. The new mill will be 40 by 80 and will have box machinery as well as shingle saws. They advertise for carpenters in the 50-cent column.

Carson Mint Coinage.

The following is the result of the coining operations at the Carson Mint during September: Double eagles, $61,000; eagles, $67,000; half eagles, $64,000; standard dollars, $75,000. Total, $197,000.

CUT TO PIECES.

A Squaw Run Over by an Engine and Horribly Mashed—Whisky Did It.

Last night, shortly after 8 o'clock, as the regular Virginia & Truckee train was coming around the sharp bend just below the depot, Engineer Clarke saw an Indian dragging a squaw or mauling her in some manner. The track being so winding in that place that the headlight throws its rays only a few feet ahead upon the rails, he therefore did not discover the Indians until it was too late to avoid striking them. The locomotive went over the squaw, cleanly cutting off one leg, which lay in the spot where she was struck, while her body was dragged by the ash-pan until the engine came to a stop, when the carcass of the poor creature was got out from under the machinery, mangled out of all human semblance—a sickening sight that turned one's stomach. A drunken Indian with a wooden leg, a well-known object on the streets of Reno, was on the spot, and

GIBBERED LIKE A MONKEY.

Over the horrible sight, as if it were a good joke on the squaw. He was drunk, and so was the squaw, undoubtedly, but whether he was trying to drag her on or off the track is a question. Some of the Indians say he got her drunk and hauled her in front of the engine to get rid of her, and it seems that he got her there just in the nick of time. Had she been lying upon the track a hundred yards ahead Mr. Clarke would have seen her and stopped in time, as he is noted for keeping a sharp lookout, and like most locomotive engineers, can peer into moderate darkness a considerable distance ahead. Especially does he keep a keen eye on the track when coming into the depot at night; and yet he did not see the Indian until the engine was almost on top of him, when the almost instantaneous glance he had at him showed that he was

DRAWING A SQUAW.

One way or the other, he could not tell which. He exclaimed to his fireman, "My God, I believe I've got a man—maybe two." The buck, however, was uninjured, having jumped aside in time to escape the fate of his mate. He seemed to take no interest in the catastrophe further than to laugh at it. Mr. Clarke is noted as one of the most careful as well as fortunate engineers on the road, and in many years' experience on a locomotive this is the first accident of the kind he ever met with, and he feels considerably grieved over it even though the victim was but a poor drunken squaw. The Coroner was notified, but he thought an inquest was not needed. The disjuncted remains were accordingly collected by Mr. Sanders and the railroad men buried them. Deputy Sheriff Updyke, learning that the Indians accused the wooden-legged buck of having dragged the squaw upon the track to accomplish her death, went to arrest him, when he became fearfully

DEUNK IN AN INSTANT.

And lay down like a hog, compelling the officers to drag him to the lockup. This drunken Indian business is getting to be a serious nuisance, and the officers have become tired of the complaints made by disgusted citizens, but they are powerless to stop it, though they have searched the Indian camps repeatedly and smashed their whisky-bottles. Some day a white man will be caught in the act of furnishing liquor to Indians. Then he will get a dose of come-uppance from which he will not recover for a while. One good lesson will cause him to wish that he had adopted some other branch of trade.

Races at the Park.

In the three-in-five trot Friday at the Park Moscow, Carlisle, Hayward and Belle Spencer started. In the pools Moscow was favorite, 20 to 15. He took the first heat in 3:36½, Hayward second, Spencer distanced. In the second heat Hines, the driver of Hayward, complained that Moscow had run into his sulky on the back stretch. The heat was given to Hayward and Moscow placed third, on account of foul driving. Time, 2:38½. The third heat was taken easily by Moscow in 2:34, Carlisle second.

TO-MORROW'S RACES.

The selling race, a dash of 1¼ miles, will come up to-morrow afternoon. Joe Howell, Frank Rhodes and one not named are entered. The mile and repeat running race is second with Billy the Kid, Snuff Box, Overland Pat, Frank Rhodes and Viola R. entered. A three in five trot, with Frank B. Colonel, Roanoke, Slim Jim and Pilot entered, will close the day.

Nevada's Sharp Shooters.

The sharpshooters connected with the Nevada militia will take part in the Fall meeting of the California Rifle Association. One or more teams will leave Nevada on the 23d instant to participate in the competition for the Pacific Slope trophy. Arrangements have been made for reduced rates of fare for all militiamen who desire to make the trip. The tickets will be good for ten days from the 23d. The match will take place October 27th.

The Palace Restaurant Wide Open For Customers.

On account of an unexpected rush for fresh oysters last night at the Palace restaurant, bivalves will be somewhat scarce there to-night, but there will be an abundance of everything else—turkeys, chickens, ducks, and every other luxury, and the house will be wide open for customers.

The Irish Skirmishing Fund.

NEW YORK, October 9.
The committee investigating the Fenian skirmishing fund, reports that the alleged forged checks given by Rossa to Breslin were not forged and not dishonored; that there were funds in bank to meet the checks when drawn, but had been attached. The committee was informed that Breslin and Devoy carried away from the office of the Fenian Brotherhood skirmishing fund letters addressed to Rossa, and were disappointed at not finding a letter containing a threat from Devoy to expose Rossa if he did not turn the fund over to them. A member of the committee said enough evidence has been produced to send the Trustees to State Prison, and that threats have been made that he and others would be laid out if they attend to-day's meeting. Itemized accounts showing the disposition of $30,000, including the so-called Ford loan of $12,000, are declared fraudulent. A resolution was adopted declaring that the Irish World has done a noble thing in closing its columns to that latest delusion, the Land League.

The Land League.

BUFFALO, N. Y., October 9.
At a meeting of Branch No. 1 of the Irish National Land League to-day, James Mooney, National President, and J. J. Hynes, National Secretary, attended. The action of Patrick Ford, of the New York Irish World, in closing his subscription list and declaring the Land League out of existence, was discussed and a motion of confidence in the National League proposed. Mooney deprecated the motion as unnecessary, and said it was best to await advices from Ireland. Hynes stated that such had been the determination reached at the meeting of the General Council of the National Land League on Saturday, and the resolution was withdrawn. The defection of Ford is of no national consequence. The Branch resolved to forward $1,000 to the national treasurer.

Naval Affairs.

WASHINGTON, October 9.
A clause in the naval appropriation act directs the Secretary of the Navy to appoint a commission of three persons—one from the line of the navy, one from the staff and a third from civil life—to consider and report at the next session of Congress, upon the question whether it is advisable to sell any navy yards, and if so, which. The Secretary has made the following selections: Commodore Stephen B. Luce, Chief Engineer C. N. Loring, and A. B. Mullett. The Secretary has also selected the following officers for an advisory board on the construction of vessels: Commodore R. W. Schufeldt, Commander John A. Howell, Lieut. E. W. Very, Naval Constructor Frank L. Fernald, Chief Engineer A. Henderson, and two civilian experts not yet selected.

Thieves Arrested.

WASHINGTON, October 9.
William L. Slater and Wilmoth Ward were arrested here last night by secret service officers on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the United States. Slater was a candidate for the position of assistant chief of bureau of engraving and printing, and Ward was a watchman at the bureau. They seem to have been engaged in a conspiracy with a man who has been a persistent applicant for the position of chief of the bureau to cast discredit upon the present administration of Colonel Irish, and to this extent it is alleged they sought to bribe an employee to steal from the stock of the Bureau engraved work and impressions of notes and bonds.

Sargents Dismissed.

WASHINGTON, October 9.
It is said by an intimate friend of Minister Sargent and family that they do not like living in Berlin. Especially is this said to be true of Mrs. Sargent. In view of their dislike for diplomatic life, it is said Sargent has had friends sound Secretary Teller with the proposition to trade places. It will be remembered that Sargent was long talked of for the Cabinet, and at one time California politicians claimed positively that the Interior portfolio had been offered him. It appears by the talk among Pacific coast people that he has not given up the idea.

A Narrow Escape from Lynching.
RAINSVILLE, Ind., October 8.
Hume Redman's devilish deed is worse than reported last night. After kicking his wife insensible he whittled off the inside of her finger ends. He was brought here to-day and put in jail. The feeling was so intense and momentarily growing more so as each new act of his brutality was made known, that the Posey county officials determined to send him away. When it was learned that he had been taken from Mount Vernon jail to be sent off a mob started for the depot after him, but a train had pulled out just before they reached there.

Ohio Politics.

WASHINGTON, October 9.
Correspondents agree that the political canvas in Ohio leaves the result more doubtful than ever before, because nobody can tell just how far the Germans will revolt, and to what extent Prohibitionists will remain firm for Republicans. Congressional candidates stand a better show than the State Republican ticket. Foster is issue, when it was unnecessary and there was nothing to gain by it from any quarter. Foster is certain of a State majority and that the Republican Congressmen will all be re-elected save possibly two. The majority will, he thinks, be very narrow.

A Jurymen's Protest.

WASHINGTON, October 9.
Foreman Dickson of the star route jury has sent the following communication to District Attorney Corkhill: To GEO. B. CONKILL, U. S. Dist. Attorney, Dist. of Columbia—Dear Sir:—I am informed that you have been ordered by the Attorney-General to hand to H. H. Wells the affidavits filed by myself and others in your office, in which certain persons are charged with having tried to corrupt the jury in the star route case. I am also informed that you have complied with this order. I write for the purpose of protesting against your action and that of the Attorney-General. Most serious charges have been made against the agents of the Department of Justice, creatures of the Attorney-General, and nothing could be more absurd than to allow that Department to investigate these charges. The Attorney-General should be unwilling to investigate charges so nearly touching his official conduct, and the fact that he wishes to take charge of the investigation is the best reason why he should not be allowed to. It might with equal propriety be left to the defendants or their attorneys, or to persons charged with having offered bribes, or to jurors suspected of having accepted them. The investigation should be made under the direction of the Court before whom the case was tried and by the attorney for the district. It should be as open as day, and all parties should have not only an opportunity of being heard, but of hearing. For one, I demand that this investigation be taken out of interested hands.

Pot Calling the Kettle Black.

NEW YORK, October 9.
Amos F. Larned, one of the 306 Stalwarts disapproving Beecher's sermon advising Republicans to bolt Folger's nomination, wrote that divine: DR. H. W. BEECHER: You made an ass of yourself yesterday; signed: AMOS F. LARNED. Beecher forthwith replied to this candid statement in no less direct words: DEAR SIR: The Lord saved you the trouble of making an ass of yourself by making you an ass at the beginning, and his work stands sure. Signed: HENRY WARD BEECHER. The correspondence stopped here.

Indian Agent Tiffany.

WASHINGTON, October 9.
Indian Commissioner Price says he knew nothing whatever of the truth or falsity of published statements reflecting on the conduct of Agent Tiffany of the San Carlos, Arizona, agency. Tiffany's record, he said, is not a good one, and he would not be surprised if what is reported of him turned out to be true. Tiffany resigned the agency several weeks ago and his resignation was received at the Department just about the time it had been decided to dismiss him.

A Midnight Murder.

CINCINNATI, October 9.
A. W. Ross, a member of the firm of Ross & Lyle, coal dealers of this city, was found murdered after midnight last night between the railroad and his residence at Glendale, Ohio. His head was beaten to a jelly. His watch and part of the chain and his pocket-book were taken. No clue to the perpetrators. A reward of $5,000 is offered for the arrest of the murderer.

The Marine Hospital Service.

WASHINGTON, October 9.
The expenses of the Marine Hospital Service the past fiscal year were $413,928; 36,184 patients received relief; 2,000 pilots and 273 seamen of the Revenue Marine Service were examined for color blindness, and 43 of the former and 4 of the latter were found to be color blind.

A Political Curiosity.

NEW YORK, October 9.
Howard Carroll, of the New York Times, who is mentioned for the office of Congressman at large on the Republican ticket in place of Hepburn, writes a card saying that if nominated he will not spend a dollar to secure his election or do anything to get office for his friends.

Killed by a Blast.

St. Louis, October 9.
Information has just been received of the premature explosion of a blast last Friday evening on the line of the Springfield and Memphis railroad, eighty miles east of Springfield, Mo., by which Gordon McDonald, a railroad boss, and four laborers were killed and 6 others seriously injured.

In Another Man's Hammock.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 9.
A man named James Chambers was shot and fatally wounded by Frank Pearl, an insurance agent of this city. The difficulty was caused by the latter being found in Chambers' room with his wife.

Mormon Opposition to Cassidy.
WASHINGTON, October 9.
After Delegate Cannon of Utah Territory had been ousted from the House of Representatives by the House declaring his seat vacant, many persons

Congress and the Departments, requested Representative Cassidy of Nevada to look after their interests here. Mr. Cassidy took an active part in the movement which resulted in the removal of Cannon, and the Mormons, who are noted for being fighters in Western politics, are now using their entire energy and considerable money to defeat Cassidy's re-election to Congress, as also to prevent the re-election of others who voted against Cannon. A prominent Mormon, in a letter to a gentleman here, after speaking of their expectation to defeat the operation of the Edmunds polygamy law through the United States Courts, says: "You can only rely on one thing; we will beat Cassidy for Congress, and thus show that it is dangerous for outsiders to meddle in our matters. It will take probably plenty of money, but we will spend it freely enough to cover him so thoroughly that he will never be heard of again. A Republican Congressman from California will share the same fate. We must protect ourselves, and to do so we will use the same thing they used against us. Jere Black is confident, our friends say, that he will knock the bottom out of the Edmunds' outrage on us."

The President's Health.

NEW YORK, October 10.
The following is indirectly from the President himself: Arthur is not troubled with Bright's disease or any other disease of the kidneys, so far as he knows. There has been no consultations of physicians, nor any real or imaginary sickness affecting him. He had a cold some time ago and his physician prescribed for that. When he left Washington he was troubled with malaria, but not in a severe form. His physician advised him to go inland to get rid of it. This was the reason of his trip to the Thousand Islands. He enjoyed himself very much while there, and has come back fully restored to health. Any stories of the President having chronic diseases of any kind are pure fabrications.

Small-Pox in Chicago.

CHICAGO, October 10.
Through the negligence of an inspector, who failed to vaccinate persons in the vicinity of 254 East North avenue, where a sporadic case of small-pox recently appeared, the disease has broken out in seven adjacent houses. Wholesale vaccination is now progressing in that section and no fears of a further spread are entertained.

A Demand For U. S. Bonds.

NEW YORK, October 10.
A sudden demand from all quarters caused an advance in Government securities yesterday, and a scarcity of bonds. Large sales of fives were made privately at one quarter per cent. above current quotations. These points are quoted—1½ and 2 per cent. premium, according to numbers.

A Land League Project.

BUFFALO, October 10.
Officers of the Irish National Land League of America, have issued a circular. It says: "A statement having been made that the Land League no longer exists calls for emphatic protest. Parnell and his co-laborers are at the head and it will be continued till its mission is accomplished. Let no friend of Ireland be misled. Let everyone who ever believed in its purposes or contributed to its advancement rally to its support. United and hopeful, its final triumph is assured."

Folger's Successor.

WASHINGTON, October 9.
Secretaries Lincoln and Chandler have gone to New York to be present at the Cabinet meeting on Tuesday. It is rumored that Folger's resignation will be accepted then and his successor named. His successor will probably be Senator J. P. Jones of Nevada or John C. New, the now acting Secretary of the Treasury.

What Vanderbilt Says.

NEW YORK, October 9.
Vanderbilt says of the Anti-Monopolists: "It is inspired by a lot of fools and blackmailers. To be sure, there are some men interested in it whose motives are good, if their senses are not. When I want to buy up any politicians I always find anti-monopolists more purchasable. They don't come so high."

Troubles in Texas.

AUSTIN, Texas, October 11.
Serious trouble is anticipated at Rio Grande City growing out of the murder of the county surveyor some days ago. Rangers have been asked for to assist in preserving the peace, but it is impossible to furnish them, as the nearest available force has its hands full in keeping down the outlaws of La Salle county.

Gold, Silver and Copper.

AUSTIN, Texas, October 11.
The Adjutant General, just back from a trip along the front, reports rich deposits of gold, silver and copper in the vicinity of Guadalupe and Webb mountains. The General on the road to Dallas discovered extremely rich deposits of gold and silver near Carizsa.

More Mob Law.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., October 11.
At ten minutes past 3 this morning about 100 men from Posey county on horseback quietly surrounded the county jail. The Sheriff was warned only a moment before the mob arrived, and before he could get to the outer prisoner. They then took a sledge hammer and battered in the door leading into the jail and made their way to the cell of Raymond, the wife beater, burst in the door, tied his hands and beat his head with a hammer. They then dragged him out and drove off in a buggy. The police on arrival commenced firing down the street in the direction of the mob, and one of them named Dave Murphy, living near Radman's home in Posey county, was killed. Another man named Mills, from the same neighborhood, now in jail, is supposed to be one of the mob.

The Ohio Election.

CINCINNATI, October 11.
The Gazette's Columbus special gives the following as the probable list of Congressmen elected: Democrats—Follet, First District; Jordan, Second; Lafave, Fourth; Zaney, Fifth; Hurd, Tenth; Converse, Thirteenth; Williams, Sixteenth; Foran, Twenty-first; total, 8. Republicans—Schmetz, Third District; Keifer, Eighth; McCormack, Eleventh; Horr, Fourteenth; Updegraff, Seventeenth; McFuley, Eighteenth; Taylor, Nineteenth; McClure, Twentieth; total, 8. This leaves five districts doubtful. Of these it is probable Campbell is elected in the Seventh District and Hart (Rep.) in the Twelfth.

At three o'clock 763 precincts show a net Democratic gain of 24,480, indicating a net Democratic majority in the State of 35,000.

CINCINNATI, October 11.

The Enquirer will claim fifteen Congressmen and will say the victory is decisive and overwhelming, and that it disposes of Foster in politics. The Commercial attributes the disaster to the interference of Governor Foster and Richard Smith, whereby the German Republican vote was alienated.

NEW YORK, October 11.

Newspapers here generally attribute the defeat of the Republicans in Ohio to the defection of Germans.

CINCINNATI, October 11.

Complete but unofficial returns from Hamilton county show the following Democratic majorities: Newman, Secretary of State, 10,650; O'Key, Judge Supreme Court, 9,809; Weiler, Board Public Works, 9,754; Hawkins, Sheriff, 11; Dalton, Clerk, 937; Pugh, Attorney, 2,636; Muscroft, Coroner, 2,044; Robinson, Recorder, 2,728; Kahe, County Commissioner, 3,177; Congrove, County Solicitor, 3,555; Pollett, Congress, First District, 839; Jordan, Second District, 1,763. The Republicans claim the election of Beresford for Sheriff.

DAYTON, O., October 11.

In a political quarrel at Soldiers' home last night August Moveke stabbed John Dean in the groin. In another political row a saloon keeper was fatally stabbed, and there were several other rows caused by the interference of a crowd of roughs at the polls to prevent votes being cast against saloon interests. Whisky and disorder were the chief factions in the election.

CLEVELAND, October 11.

Edwin Cowles of the Leader says: The Republicans met an enemy led by John Barleycorn and King Gambinus, and were routed. The cause of their defeat can be traced clearly to prohibition. When our Republican Legislature passed a law taxing saloons, which has since been declared unconstitutional, and the law closing saloons on Sunday, the German element, about 20,000 in number, obeying orders from their leaders, resolved to punish the Republicans for their tenacity by voting with the Democrats, and to this is added the general stampede of Republican workingmen on account of being worsted in strikes, particularly in that of the Cleveland rolling mills. A director of that company, Mr. Everett, was nominated for Congress by the Republicans, and became a target for working men. Hence his signal defeat in a strong Republican district. Impracticable Prohibitionists drew largely and entirely from the Republican ranks and aided greatly in helping the saloonists and Germans in punishing that party. It was simply an illustration of how extremes meet. Then the other temperance men throughout the State were in a lethargic state and made no effort to show that they appreciated what the Republicans had done for temperance, resulting in an army of stay-at-homes. To cap the climax the Democrats were aided by a most efficient corps of assistants, consisting of 15,000 saloonists and 5,000 bartenders, making a force of 20,000, who electioneered and did all the work in detail and stood around 1,960 polls peddling tickets, in addition to other classes of workers. They assessed themselves and contributed, with what brewers gave, nearly $100,000 to the State Central Committee, to be used as a corruption fund. All these causes have resulted in the Republicans losing the State by from 15,000 to 20,000 plurality. The Republicans have lost a Congressman in Cleveland District, two in Cincinnati, and one in Toledo District. Judge Geddes has defeated Horr (Rep.), and Updegraff, McKinney and Keifer are in danger. Probably a very great majority of our 21 Congressmen will be Democrats. Republicans had a similar experience in 1874, the year the ladies were engaged in a temperance crusade movement, but they recovered the following year, when they elected Hayes Governor. It is clear that Ohio, with its large foreign element and whisky-drinking Democrats, with its two parties so evenly matched, cannot successfully follow the example of Kansas and Iowa, which have generally gone Republican by from 50,000 to 80,000 majority. In those States Republicans outnumbered Democrats three to one. Hence the temperance character of their people.

State and the Third Congressional District have experienced an unprecedented Waterloo. The Democrats have elected everything from top to bottom of the ticket.

Demoralized Republicans.

CINCINNATI, October 11.
The Gazette says the demoralization of the Republican party in Ohio and Pennsylvania is partaken of in New York politics and the National Government. The extravagance of the last Congress and the temperance question are responsible for the result.

Registration in New York.

FOREIGN TELEGRAPH.

Affairs in Egypt.

CAIRO, October 11.

Preliminary inquiries all tend to support Arabi's assertion that the outrages perpetrated during the rebellion were committed against his will.

One of the chief eunuchs of the palace entered the cell of Abdul Goffer, a political prisoner, roused him from sleep, spit in his face and put other indignities upon him. The eunuch proceeded to Arabi's cell and acted in a similar manner, but with greater violence. Several officers of the palace are accused of complicity in the outrages.

Correspondents accompanying the British army in Egypt will receive the decoration of the Order of Medjid.

Sir Charles Wilson is satisfied of the impartiality of the judges appointed to try the rebel leaders.

According to advices from the interior, British occupation produced little or no impression.

The Wrecked Steamship.

CAPE RACE, October 11.

The wrecked ship Herder, it seems, must have come pretty close around Mistaken Point, as her present position plainly indicates. Had she been a little more than a length further off she would have cleared everything. Half a length closer to shore would have proved fatal to all hands. Salvagers are taking the cargo out and 2,000 packages are already landed.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., October 11.

The steamer Neptune arrived with passengers, mail, baggage, specie, etc., from the wrecked steamer Herder. The German Consul met the people on the wharf and had all sent to comfortable lodgings.

Items from Egypt.

CAIRO, October 8.

Arabi Pasha is treated as the commonest convict by his Egyptian jailors. It is stated on good authority that the British Consul General told the Khedive that British control will be abolished.

General Wolsely gave a grand picnic yesterday on the Nile to the staff and commanding officers.

Bedouins violated the graves even of their own dead for the sake of loot. Cotton is coming in freely from Mansourah.

A Priestly Privilege.

LONDON, October 9.

As a concession to the feeling of the Catholic clergy throughout Ireland all Bishops except Archbishop McCabe have extended a general permission to priests in their dioceses to take part in the Mansion House evicted tenants movement and in the new labor league and industrial union, forbid by Parnell. Several minor church dignitaries have consequently become Presidents of branches of the league, and will in that capacity participate in the public conference.

Bristles and Head Cheese.

LONDON, October 9.

Thirty persons have been poisoned here from eating head cheese manufactured by local butchers. Physicians attribute the trouble to bristles chopped up with the skin of pork, causing irritation of the stomach's inner coating and producing spasms and vomiting. Some of the sufferers are very low, but it is supposed they will all recover.

Death of a Canadian Jurist.

WINNIPEG, October 8.

E. B. Wood, Chief Justice of Manitoba, was struck with paralysis yesterday while giving judgment from the bench, and died four hours afterwards. He was formerly a prominent lawyer and politician of Ontario. One of his first acts here was to sentence to death Ambrose Lepine, one of the leaders of the rebellion of 1870, for the murder of Thomas Scott.

A Steamship Lost.

ST. JOHN'S, October 9.

The German steamer Herder, from New York, October 5, for Hamburg, with 288 passengers, was lost near Cape Race last night. All hands saved. Particulars not yet received.

Military Jealousy.

CAIRO, October 10.

Considerable dissatisfaction exists among officers and men of other British regiments in Egypt at the singling out by General Wolsely of the Royal Irish Regiment for special mention in his dispatch of Sept. 13th to the War Office, giving his report of the battle at Tel-el-Kebir.

Automatic Car-Coupler.

The Simplest, Cheapest and Most Durable Automatic Coupling for Freight Cars ever Invented. Easily and Quickly Repaired when Desired.

Can be Used in Connection with the Present Pin-Coupling without Inconvenience. The Draw-Head will Pull Out before the Coupling will Break.

THIS INVENTION consists of a draw-head, B, in illustration, in which is the usual chamber a and is provided with a flaring face. In its bottom is made an aperture, c, the front wall of which is vertical, and the rear wall is beveled from the rear downwardly, as shown. The top of the draw-head is provided with an aperture, b, the rear wall of which is curved. The front wall is inclined from the inside or lower edge backwardly, forming a point, o, and thence forwardly in a concave curve, ending in a convex curve, as shown.

C is the latch. This consists of two arms, e and e', extending about at right angles and meeting at their bases in a hub, e', the outer face of which is rounded and fits in the concave curve of the front wall of aperture b. This latch is hinged in the front of the said aperture by a pivot, D, through the walls of the draw-head and through the hub e'. The arm e upon its forward side is notched out at o. When at rest in the aperture b, the latch lies with its arm e extending downwardly across the chamber a. Its lower end is curved backwardly and upwardly and fits down into aperture c, its front abutting against the straight wall of said aperture. The arm e' extends backwardly in the top of aperture b, and its rear end is curved to correspond to the rear wall of said aperture. The operation of the latch is as follows:

When the link enters at any point within the flaring front of the draw-head it strikes or is directed against the front of arm e. This is pushed back and up upon the pivot D, the latch C turning on its curved base in its bearing and throwing the arm e' up out of aperture b. When the link has passed the arm e the latch C returns to position, the arm e falling through the link and the arm e' returning within aperture b. The strain is resisted by the arm e, which has two points of impingement—namely, one below against the front wall of aperture c and one above against the front wall of aperture b. The point o, fitting in notch o', lends support to the latch and resists the strain upon the link. It also prevents the latch, should the pivot-pin D work out, from working up through aperture b. It may become necessary sometimes to lift the latch C and throw it back in a position in which it will remain without falling. For this purpose enough space is left between the pivot D and the upper portion of the rear of the draw-face to change the center of gravity to a point forward of the pivot-pin. To insure this effect I put more weight into arm e' by inclining its lower side, as shown. This will keep the latch up when thrown back against the top. In order to raise the latch to disengage it from the link I have the following device: E is a rod extending in suitable guides, m, from the top of the car down its end. The upper end of the rod is provided with a knob, n, and has upon its inner side a series of ratchet-teeth, r. Upon top of the car and extending over the end is a pawl, s, with which the teeth r engage when the rod is raised to secure it at any height. To the rod E, near its lower end, is secured an arm, F, to the end of which a chain, G, is attached, the other end of which is secured to the rear end of arm e' of latch C. By raising the rod E the latch C may be drawn up to free its arm e from the link. When the rod is released from the pawl s the latch drops back into position. The aperture c in the bottom of the draw-head not only furnishes a point of resistance for the arm e, but is for the purpose of allowing stones, &c., to drop through, to prevent any obstruction to the said arm in finding its place. This is an advantage, as it keeps the arm from becoming worn. For further information and privileges please address

The Range of Modern Small Arms.

An English writer states that the range of small arms has so greatly increased of late years that the Government in many instances has found it necessary to change the practice grounds. The school of musketry in Hythe is to be transferred to other quarters and a tract of ground near Dungeness has been selected for the purpose. At some rifle-butts on Hounslow Heath, near London, used by regulars, a singular example of the long range of the Martini-Henry rifle was given some time ago. A soldier of the Seventh Foot accidentally discharged his piece while at a slight elevation. The squad was firing at the 1,000-yard range, and the errant bullet passed over the targets and struck the front door of a gentleman's house exactly one and one-fourth miles beyond the butts, passing through two and a half inches of solid oak and falling spent in the lobby, much to the alarm of a servant, at whose feet the missile dropped. In this case, the ball, after traveling 3,200 yards, or only 230 yards short of two miles, had still force enough to penetrate two and a half inches into wood.

Railroad Speed.

The current number of the Railroad Gazette has an article on the "Limits of Speed in Locomotives," which says that the fact "that 25 years ago locomotives ran just as fast as they have since, notwithstanding the improvements which have been made in their manufacture and construction, indicates that there is some physical law which places a limit on the number of miles per hour that can be run. The conclusion which we draw from these considerations is that we have very nearly reached the practical limit of trains, unless there is some radical improvement made in the motive power applied. Fifty miles an hour, including stops, is the best time that can be expected for regular trains, and any considerable speed over 60 is probably impossible.

THE LARCOMBES.

The Bodies of Father and Son Recovered Yesterday.

Friday afternoon while George Tassand was collecting and dragging out drift wood at the boom on the river, a short distance below the Virginia street bridge, he saw something which attracted his attention more than any ordinary floating object would, but he at first had no idea that it was a human body. Yet it proved to be such. Upon inspection it proved to be the remains of Davy Larcombe, who, with his father, was drowned several weeks ago while crossing the Truckee near the head of the Highland ditch. Messrs. Beemer and Neale were at the spot a few moments after the discovery and removed the body to Needham's furniture store. It was readily identified as Davy Larcombe's remains by the clothing, and there being no possibility of mistake in this respect Coroner Dickens deemed an inquest unnecessary.

THE FATHER FOUND.

About half past 5 o'clock last evening O. W. Ayer went with his little boy, Leland, to a boom he has extending out into the river, a little way above the dam, to throw out a lot of drift wood that it had caught. Almost the first thing that caught the boy's eye was the body of John Larcombe lying close to the boom timbers. The body was on its face with the feet and legs under the boom. The clothing was hardly torn at all and the boots, suspenders and all were on. Mr. Ayer went at once for the undertaker and Mr. Sanders soon drove up. He took the remains out of the water and placed them in a coffin. The funeral of both father and son took place to-day at 2 o'clock. It is a mournful satisfaction to the friends, but still a great one, to know where the poor bodies lie, and to be able to give them proper attention.

S. Beemer to-day buried both bodies in one casket. The funeral services were held at Trinity church.

A Piute Weather Prophet.

That dignified Piute, Buena Vista John, is the meteorologist of his tribe. He informs the Silver State that the coming Winter is going to be a severe one, and while it may not be as cold as last Winter, there will be much more snow. Great fires in the Sierras in the Fall, according to this logic, denote a heavy snow-fall in Nevada the following Winter. NEW CHINESE BILL.

The Indians and the Chinese. Are They the Same Race of People?

Some Surprising Historical Proofs of a New Theory.

[Portland (Or.) Daily Oregonian.]

There have recently been put out some startling theories in relation to the native races of the Pacific Coast that may have a tendency to throw some light on a frequently mooted question, and that is—the origin of the aborigines of America, a race of people who have been the close study of the white race ever since the landing of Christopher Columbus in 1492. Lately the people of the Pacific Coast have had their thoughts most seriously turned toward another race, whose history, circumstances and habits have been the theme of a warm and earnest discussion in both branches of the National Congress. There can be no doubt that Congress and the President ought to have heeded the unanimous voice of the people of the Pacific Coast—the voice that came from the press as well as from the rostrum, the work bench and from the farm. But it is not for the purpose of discussing "The Chinese Question" in this form that we have commenced this article, but to put forth the theory that the two races we have been discussing, viz: the Indian and the Chinese, have the same origin. Some time since the writer of this article had an interview with the venerable Rev. Josiah L. Parrish, now of Salem. Mr. Parrish is one of the oldest living of the pioneer Methodist missionaries sent out from the East to the Oregon wilds to teach the Indians the one true God. Mr. Parrish early acquired their language, and has been studying their habits for forty years. For a long time he was the Indian agent of the United States Government, and acted as interpreter and negotiator for the government in many treaties made with the Indians. Mr. Parrish most emphatically believes in the theory that the Indians of North America were originally Asiatics. His idea is that they not only came across the frozen sea at Behring's Straits in the Winter, but that many Chinamen, voyagers on the ocean in junks, were driven out of their course by storms, and finally, in their efforts to return home, wandered on the trackless ocean to the Oregon and Washington coast. The spirit of wild venture, or the great desire for discovery, may have led some of these bolder Celestials to fit out expeditions for the express purpose of seeking the unknown shore stretching beyond their vast sea. Once reaching these shores, the unexpected great distance deterred them from ever attempting to return. More likely than this, their weak and frail crafts were dashed to pieces in the angry waves of our coast. Mr. Parrish says that old wrecks of Chinese junks were seen on our coast that, by their appearance, must have been thousands of years old when first discovered by white men. Beeswax in large quantities, and other imperishable articles, have been found imbedded in the sands of the coast, a portion of the cargo of some of the cast-away junks. Mr. Parrish exhibited to us, while on our visit to him, several baskets, hats and other articles worked in grasses and straw by the Indian women of the Chinook tribe, and then placed by their side similar articles wrought by the Chinese, and we were astonished at the similarity—we may almost say identity of texture, figures and make-up of these articles—the one produced in China and the other in Oregon. Anyone seeing them would decide at once that they were all the work of the same race of people. The two races are enough alike physiognomically to claim the same origin. There is no more difference than we would naturally expect between the people of the same race who reside in a densely populated country and those who have lived the wild, nomadic life of the American savage. This is a theory that will bear investigation. There is one other discovery that has recently been made with regard to these two races. There is an old Indian named Thomas McKay, or as he proudly calls himself, "Wyanashet," the chief of the Klicitota. The old man is supposed to be over 100 years old. He is now living on the Philbrook Hills, at the head of the Nestugah river. He hunts deer in the season and occasionally comes down to the "settlements" to sell his deer skins and fresh venison, and to beg a little provisions, including whiskey and tobacco, to take to his lonely cabin in the hills. One day old Wyanashet came to the town of McMinville, all crippled up with the rheumatism. It was a terrible sight to see the once powerful leader of the great tribe so broken down that he could scarcely hobble on two canes. Some kind hearted white man gave him a bottle of the Great German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil. After a good deal of persuasion and explanation the old chief accepted the medicine and applied it to his old crippled limbs, and in three weeks "McKay" came down from the mountains with all the vigor of renewed youth. Exclaiming, "Hya close Hya muck-a-muck," "White man's medicine heep good," he made an old fashioned war dance with the magic bottle of St. Jacobs Oil in his hand. We learn that at some of the reservations the Oil is used with wonderful efficacy. Now comes the other race. Mow Lee, who runs a store on Second street, was similarly used up with rheumatism, and all efforts of the best Chinese doctors were in vain to give relief. He rushed to the drug store and asked for the best "Melian" man heep good medicine for lame leg and lame shoulder." The druggist knowing the popularity of St. Jacobs Oil, gave him the last remedy known, and ing that the two races are identical, it does prove that the Great German Remedy is applicable to all nations and all races of the earth. It is good for man and it is good for beast. It is good in all climates, and relieves suffering everywhere. Like the great English Government, it can be much more emphatically said of it that the "sun never sets on the dominions" of its beneficence and blessings. Our druggists of Portland say that the call for this remedy is not confined to any class of people or any condition of society. The rich man in his mansion, the poor in the hut; the merchant in his counting room, and the workman at his toil; the farmer and the drover—all are purchasers of the Great German Remedy. The testimonials would fill volumes. We have time to give only a few.

Mrs. Mary Lee, at No. 13 Fifth street, says she uses it in her large family. One of her sisters suffered with violent pains in her feet. She was relieved at once. Captain John Malone, who lives on his farm five miles east of Portland, was all crippled up with rheumatism. The first bottle of St. Jacobs Oil helped him; the second did still better, and before he had used up half a dozen bottles the most obstinate attack he ever knew yielded completely to the remedy.

Thomas Jones of Washington county was taking home a bottle for his wife. On the road he was seized with a violent toothache. It was too dark to go back to Portland to have the tooth extracted. In very desperation he took out the bottle of St. Jacobs Oil and applied it plentifully to the inside and outside of his mouth, using his handkerchief as a bandage. By the time he reached home, the pain was subdued, and what is most remarkable, the ugly customer has never troubled him since. He says a neighbor of his had a very severe attack of neuralgia, and one bottle effectually cured the aggravating pains. Mr. Jones says his wife uses it for almost all the pains the flesh is heir to, and always finds relief.

D. S. Mooney running on various coast and river crafts, uses it for neuralgia and always finds relief.

Peter Stanwick of 241 Sherman street has suffered years and years with rheumatism, and tried all the known remedies, and suffered many things from many physicians; the St. Jacobs Oil has cured him. And so goes the word, "all along the line." First pain, then anxiety for relief, and then resort to the wonderful substance whose surprising efficacy has been so fully testified to above.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

RESOLVED, That the honor and glory of the Republic, its continued peace, prosperity and progress will be best served by the perpetuation and continued success of the Republican party. We declare our fidelity to its principles as expressed in the Chicago platform of 1880, and as further embodied in its great history from its organization to the present time.

RESOLVED, That in the tragic death of President Garfield our country has suffered a deplorable loss, and the Republican party mourns for one who consecrated a noble and heroic life to the vindication of its great purposes.

RESOLVED, That we have faith in the prudent and sagacious administration of President Arthur and believe it will result in promoting the best interests of the country.

RESOLVED, That the presence in our midst of a servile race, incapable of assimilating with our institutions, is a perpetual menace to all classes of society. The relief extended to our people by the passage of a law excluding the Chinese by a Republican Congress and approved by a Republican President is a genuine cause of satisfaction. We are in favor of strenuously enforcing the provisions of said law, and we pledge the Republican party to labor now and henceforth to secure such further legislation as will permanently exclude the Chinese.

RESOLVED, That we recognize the paramount importance of maintaining unimpaired the free public school system of the State. We shall defend it against sectarian, political or other improper influences, and we favor such further legislation as the condition and wants of the common schools of the State may require. As free institutions they should be so conducted as to satisfy poor and rich alike, and upon this principle we urge the adoption of some system by which this State shall furnish the text books at the lowest possible figure.

RESOLVED, That owing to the remote position of Nevada from the sea-board and the entire absence of navigable waters and competing lines of railroads to and from commercial centers, we demand from Congress such wholesome and effective legislation as will place our people on terms of equality in respect to transportation charges with communities specially favored by railroad monopolies.

RESOLVED, That we pledge the Republican party of Nevada to such a course of enlightened legislation as will extend to railroad and other corporations doing business in this State the same protection and the same rights before the law as is accorded to individuals—no more and no less. And further, that the Republican party favors and demands at the hands of the State Legislature legislation regulating and equalizing freights and fares on all railroads within this State.

RESOLVED, That we are in favor of the Government of the United States establishing a postal telegraph service, and operating the same in connection with the Postoffice Department.

RESOLVED, That the coinage of silver should be placed upon the same basis as that of gold, and we invoke early Congressional legislation to that end.

RESOLVED, That it is the duty of the Legislature to enact such laws as will result in the purification of the jury box, and better promote the administration of justice.

RESOLVED, That it is the duty of the next Legislature to pass such laws as shall reduce the expenses of State and county governments to the lowest possible limits consistent with the requirements of the public service.

RESOLVED, That the earnest attention of Congress and the State Legislature is directed to the subject of codifying the laws relating to the location and working of mineral lands to the end that legitimate prospecting and the development of our chief source of wealth may best be promoted.

RESOLVED, That the appropriation by a Republican Congress for the payment of pensions to invalid Union soldiers and to the veterans of the Mexican war is the discharge of a debt of honor and law—a generous remembrance of our country's defenders in its supreme hour of peril.

RESOLVED, That in the judgment of this convention the Legislature, when next convened, should make the necessary provisions for a convention to revise the entire constitution of the State; that in providing for such convention, well-guarded restrictions should be made, defining the number of delegates, their compensation, and fixing the duration of its session; that we believe such a convention is imperatively demanded by the urgent necessities of the times, and among others for the following cogent reasons: First—to change the fundamental law so as to secure as nearly as may be the equal and uniform taxation on all property subjected thereto. Second—to regulate and render equal and just all the rates of passage and freight upon all railroads doing business in this State, to the end that our leading industries may be fostered and not oppressed, built up and not overthrown; and third—to secure the redemption of the expenses of the State to a minimum by dispensing with all unnecessary officers and employees, reducing more speedily and economically the collection of public revenue, and the general administration of justice.
